IRON DUTY OF U.S. CUT BY SENATE

Coalition Wins Over Administration Group in Significant Vote on Bill

Reed of Pennsylvania, High Protectionist, Says Bill Will Not Be Signed

Washington, Nov. 7.—In the first dispute over a major industrial tariff, the administration group in the Senate bowed yesterday to an overwhelming majority of Democrats and Western Republicans, who succeeded by forty-eight to thirty in reducing the duty on pig iron from 12 1/2 to 75 cents a ton. The finance committee Republicans had proposed an increase to $1.50. The 75-cent rate was sponsored by Senator Barkley, Kentucky, a Democratic member of the tariff framing finance committee. This was the same duty carried in the existing law until it was raised by Presidential proclamation to $1.12 1/2, which rate the House left untouched. Senator Reed, Republican, Pennsylvania, who had urged the $1.50 rate to assist merchant furnace operators on (Continued on Page 3)

In Los Angeles Saturday Convicted Theatre Man Will Ask New Trial

Los Angeles, Nov. 7.—Seven affidavits upon which Alexander Pantages will base his plea for a new trial Saturday are on file with District Attorney Burton Pitts here to-day. Three of the documents were sworn to by women jurors of the panel which convicted the vaudeville magnate on statutory charges. And two declare that fear of caustic utterances against him fear of caustic utterances against them voting.

QUESTION OF CLEMENCY
The jurors, Mrs. Christina D. Ulrich, Mrs. William Ingles and Mrs. Lora C. Steiner, who admitted they voted for acquittal during the early part of the lengthy deliberations, swore they were influenced also in switching their votes by the inclusion of the words "with clemency" in the verdict. They said they were under the impression such a direction would make it mandatory that Superior Judge Charles Fricke pronounce a light sentence. (Continued on Page 3)

Three $1,000 Donations Sought For Blind To-day

Another Thousand Offered When Nine Have Contributed Same Amount

Blind Veteran Donates $20 That Others Might Receive Training

Without depreciating the small donations which often represent the greatest sacrifice, organizers of the drive for $50,000 for the National Institute for the Blind this morning anxiously scanned canvassers' reports and letters received at the office for thousand-dollar donations. Six one thousand-dollar contributions have been received since the campaign opened. Another thousand dollar is hanging in the balance. A sympathizer has offered to contribute a thousand dollars if nine other donations of the same amount are received. When the office opened this morning at 1203 Broad Street the total was $500 short of $12,000. The information that the municipality of Saanich (Continued on Page 3)

NEW ZEALANDERS TO SERVE IN ARMY OR SALVATION ARMY

Wellington, N.Z., Nov. 7.—Hon. A. Wilford, Minister of Defence, told the House of Representatives to-day that in the future New Zealand's conscientious objectors to military service would be assigned to service in the Salvation Army. He said provision would be made to give the objectors to military training an alternative form of service with the Salvation Army.

COURTHOUSE SITE CAUSE OF WRANGLE

Civic Centre Site Is Suggested by One Section of Conservatives

Other Party Men Oppose This Plan; Recommend Site Opposite Parliament Buildings

Discussion in Conservative party circles over the location of the proposed new Provincial Court-house became apparent to-day. Mayor Anson, following a recent intimation to members of the City Council that he believed there would shortly be something to announce of interest to the city, is said to be leaning towards a site in the area of Pandora Avenue, east of the City Hall, in line with the Civic Centre plan projected under Mayor J. G. Pendry.

Others, said to include prominent workers of the Conservative party in this city, have taken exception to the Civic Centre plan, contending that the Government recently spent $120,000 of public money to acquire these frontages on Superior Street and on Government Street, facing the Parliament Buildings.

A breach between the two factions of the party was being openly spoken of in Conservative circles to-day. The Civic Centre plan was created by J. H. Doughty-Dewar, former city zoning engineer, under the Pendry regime. It proposed the laying aside of ground fronting on Pandora Avenue for a distance of two blocks and on which provision would be made for a site for a new City Hall, a new Courthouse, a new central fire hall and other public buildings, the whole to be rounded off by boulevards and flowers.

The project was advanced by one section of the 1928 council, but did not come to a vote. Objection was taken at that time to the fact that the area in which it was proposed to place the public buildings was close to a portion of the city where the demolition of some houses to avert a slum condition had recently been ordered by the city health authorities and put into effect.

Close to the Civic Centre site the city, under a former administration, reserved a considerable block of property, on which houses built in former days and standing on narrow lots, widths of land, were raised and the land reserved for future park or playground purposes.

K. K. K. Fight On Prairie

Police Investigate Raid Made on Klansmen Who Had Fiery Cross

Hudson Bay Junction, Sask., Nov. 7.—Several persons were injured in a pitched battle here growing out of an attack directed against members of the Ku Klux Klan when the Knights attempted to burn a fiery cross in the town. A report of the affair is being made to the Attorney-General's Department. The fight occurred at a meeting scheduled to have been addressed by J. W. Rosborough, Imperial Wizard of the K.K.K. and started with a rush in the dark on men who were preparing to erect the cross. Attackers and attacked became confused in the darkness and members of the raiding party are reported to have injured one of their own members. One is said to have sustained injuries in the face and eyes which are alleged to have had two ribs broken. Klansmen are reported to have decided to stage another meeting at a later date and if necessary call reinforcements from lodges along the line and have Mounted Police present for protection.

REPORTERS IN WASHINGTON JAIL

The three young men pictured above, members of the reporter staff of a newspaper of Washington, D.C., made a personal survey of the speakers of that city. The grand jury called them and they described the wet scenes, but, declaring they must keep faith with their informants, refused to divulge the names and addresses of bootleggers from whom they had bought liquor, which they said could be purchased in the capital city of the United States without any real difficulty. This brought them a forty-five day sentence for contempt of court and now they are spending their time in the jail in which Harry F. Sinclair, also listed for contempt, is serving a sentence. The reporters, left to right are: Gorman M. Hendricks, Jack E. Nevins Jr. and Linton Burkett.

Needs of Island Will Be Fully Probed By Hiam

Inauguration of New Steamer Service Will Closely Identify C.N.R. With Victoria and Vancouver Island, Says Assistant to President of System, Now Visiting City; Will Examine Facilities on Island With View to Possible Development.

"With the inauguration of its steamship service between Vancouver, Victoria and Seattle next summer, the Canadian National Railways will become more closely identified than ever with Vancouver Island, and the desire of the company will be to advance the interests of the island and to consolidate its position," said Col. T. A. Hiam, assistant to Sir Henry Thornton, president of the C.N.R., who arrived in Victoria to-day on his first visit to the island since his appointment.

KNOWS ISLAND WELL
Although he has spent several years in Europe in his capacity as technical adviser to the transportation section of the League of Nations at Geneva, Col. Hiam is no stranger to Victoria and Vancouver Island. He made many visits here before the war, when, as assistant to Sir Donald Mann, vice-president of the Canadian Northern Railway, he was associated with the negotiations which brought that railway system to the island.

"I am glad to be back in Victoria," genuinely remarked Col. Hiam at breakfast this morning in reflecting that six years had elapsed since he was last here. He is occupying the vice-regal suite at the Empress Hotel.

GREAT POSSIBILITIES
"Like anyone who has eyes to see," said Col. Hiam, "I am not insensible to the beauty and the possibilities of Vancouver Island. Not only has Vancouver Island attractions far beyond the ordinary to please the tourist, but it has commercial possibilities which are rich in promise. Naturally, since I have only been on the Coast five days, it could not be expected I could (Continued on Page 3)

Saanich Sends $500 to Blind

Saanich Municipality this morning subscribed $500 towards the campaign for the blind, and a cheque for this amount has been forwarded to the committee in charge of the drive to raise $50,000 in Greater Victoria. The contribution was approved by all members of the council yesterday afternoon, when their opinions were individually sought by Reeve Crouch. Formal approval will be voted at the council session to be held next Thursday evening.

WORLD'S LARGEST LAND PLANE TESTED ON FLIGHT IN GERMANY

Dessau, Germany, Nov. 7.—The G-38, a giant new 2,300-horsepower Junkers monoplane believed to be the largest land plane yet constructed, yesterday completed its first trial flight successfully. Its wings, which measure 136 feet from tip to tip, have a tapering "arrow shape" that gives the ship an appearance of lightness, but is considered by the Junkers engineers to be the strongest and steepest type yet achieved.

RUSSIANS CELEBRATE SOVIET DAY

Twelfth Anniversary of Revolution Brings Out Masses of People

Parade Reviewed by Leaders in Moscow Twelve Miles Long

Moscow, U.S.S.R., Nov. 7. (By James A. Mills, Associated Press Correspondent).—Communist Russia to-day observed in traditional revolutionary fashion the twelfth anniversary of the 1917 upheaval which ushered Bolshevism into the world and destroyed the ancient Russian Government.

The Government gave bread and meat at cost prices to every member of the population holding bread cards.

With the aid of millions of yards of red bunting, huge flaming placards, symbolic wooden floats, numerous speakers' stands and large portraits of Lenin, Marx and Stalin, historic Red Square was transformed into a mighty theatrical stage for the passing of a twelve-mile long military and civilian parade, led by the commander of the Moscow services.

SING AND SHOUT
This singing, shouting mass of humanity, carrying banners, flaming flags and chanting the "Internationale," marched through the Gates of Resurrection, where formerly stood the famous Chapel of the Siberian Virgin. Over the portals of the gates to-day appeared a gigantic red anti-religious placard reading: "Down with the deities of popes; give us books instead of religion." (Continued on Page 3)

RADIO PHONE NOW READY

Apparatus at Campbell River Installed as Link With Powell River

Installation has been completed at Campbell River of apparatus for the radio telephone link between Campbell River and Powell River. The equipment is now being given the final scrutiny prior to commencement of tests and inception of regular service in connection with the land lines of the British Columbia Telephone Company Limited. P. C. Paterson, manager of the Vancouver Island lines of the telephone company, yesterday afternoon at Dunsmuir met the plant superintendent in charge of island lines and was assured that little delay will intervene before the radio link is in regular service. The Powell River equipment has been in readiness for some time. The new development in telephonic service on the British Columbia Coast has been keenly supported by George H. Hume, now chairman of the board, who is now making studies into the feasibility of radio-land wire interlocking service to give West Coast industries of Vancouver Island telephonic connection with Vancouver and Victoria, a service impossible by land wires only.

PRICES OF WHEAT RISE

Gains of 2 1/2 to 2 5/8 Cents Seen on Winnipeg Exchange To-day

Winnipeg, Nov. 7.—Overcoming an early weakness caused by stock market declines, wheat values here soared to-day, closing with net gains of 2 1/2 cents to 2 5/8. Buyers took hold of the market following a 1/2 to 1 1/2 cents drop in the opening minutes of trading and the market remained firm for the balance of the session. Commission houses were leading purchasers. Exporters took little interest, it was believed.

Reports of frost in some sections of the Argentine wheat growing belt, and Broomhall's reduced estimate of the Argentine wheat surplus for 1930 had an effect on prices here.

Trail, B.C., Nov. 7.—Fire this morning in the heart of the business district here destroyed the Trail Garage and damaged a three-story cafe and rooming house and the two-story Salvation Army Citadel, adjoining. The damage to the latter two buildings was mostly caused by water. Firemen had a strenuous fight to keep the flames from spreading. Cars and stock in the garage were saved.

New British Dirigible Tuned For Flight With Eighty Members

London, Nov. 7. (Canadian Press).—It is planned the great new airship R-101 will take eighty members of the British House of Commons for a trip November 18. Three women are included among the eighty who secured seats when 150 members of Parliament balloted for them. These are Lady Astor, Dr. Ethel Bentham, Labor member for East Islington, and Dr. Marion Phillips, Labor member for Sunderland.

Included among the men who will make the trip, are Hon. F. Montague, Under-Secretary for Air; Major J. B. Cohen, Conservative, who lost both legs in the World War, and Colonel Hamilton-Gault, who spent many years in Canada and there raised and equipped the Princess Patricia's Canadian Light Infantry for service in the World War.

Probability that the jump to Baker Lake would not be attempted to-day was expressed by Dominion Explorers' officials here at noon on receipt of a weather report from Baker Lake, where there was an overcast sky and poor visibility, with a temperature of about zero. With this report at hand, Captain Blanchet, it was thought, would not undertake the flight. (Continued on Page 3)

Bellingham Asks If It Has Oil Well

Operation Not Needed After Boy Is Slapped

Chicago, Nov. 7.—A slap on the back did for little Leonard Gilbert yesterday what science had failed for five months to do.

Last spring the two-and-one-half-year-old boy swallowed a screw. His parents did not know of it until later, when severe spells of coughing developed. Two operations were performed without success, the screw being wedged in the windpipe in such a manner that surgeons were unable to reach it without endangering the child's life. Yesterday plans were made to take the child to Philadelphia for a third operation. He began coughing violently. His nurse picked him up in a manner that surgeons were unable to reach it without endangering the child's life. The screw dropped from the boy's mouth.

Bellingham, Wash., Nov. 7.—With the source still undetermined, Bellingham's "oil well," accidentally discovered by employees of the city water department Tuesday, continued to flow to-day. The hole under a water main in a city street was covered last night for fear someone might throw a match in it, but it was uncovered this morning long enough for P. E. Healy, secretary of the Chamber of Commerce, to dip up two gallons of the fluid, which he sent to the Northwest Laboratory at Seattle for analysis.

While the report was awaited the question of further exploration of the "well" was to be taken up with the city water board by a group of local citizens. If permission is granted, W. S. Quimby plans to raise a fund by popular subscription to carry on the work.

PEOPLE ARE EXCITED
Meanwhile an excited public is awaiting definite assurance that the find is not genuine and due to an escapement as some contend. The theory of seeps that the oil is seepage from a nearby filling station weakened with more than 100 gallons taken from the hole. The oil has the appearance of filtered gasoline. It is yellowish in color.

CROWD GREETS CANADIAN V.C. HOLDERS IN LONDON

London, Nov. 7. (By Canadian Press Staff Correspondent).—Traffic around Canada House here was blocked for a short time to-day when it became known Canadian V.C.'s were inside, paying their respects to Hon. P. C. Larkin, Canadian High Commissioner in Great Britain. The Canadians had called on their way to the British Legion's poppy factory at Richmond, where the Prince of Wales was to meet them. Afterward they were to be guests of Lord Lee at White Lodge, place of the Prince of Wales. A battery of photographers confronted the surprised Canadian V.C. holders as they left Canada House. The distinguished ex-servicemen finally were persuaded not to get into the waiting motor cars directly, but to have a photograph taken. It was explained the publicity would benefit the Early Haig Poppy Fund. The Canadians then stood on the wide steps of Canada House with Mr. Larkin's tall figure the most conspicuous of all.

Reeve Shows Why Saanich Lacks Books

Victoria Library Refused to Arbitrate Dispute, Saanich Voters Told

H. Briggs Elected President of Ward Four Ratepayers' Association

The annual meeting of the Ward Four, Saanich, Ratepayers' Association was held last night at Marigold Hall with eighteen members present. H. L. Briggs was elected as president for the coming year.

J. J. Deaver, retiring president, refused another term in the chair. J. Warnock was chosen vice-president and J. J. Beckett was re-elected secretary-treasurer. The executive committee will be: W. H. Nix, Frank Melton, E. Salmon, H. Holmes and W. J. Lynn.

Cancellation of library facilities was discussed, members being of opinion that the cost of service by the Victoria Library should be met from the Saanich treasury, regardless of the area in which the book users reside. This view was advanced after Reeve Crouch had explained that service had ceased when the library refused to allow Saanich to control issuance of library cards, which step had been necessary before the cost of service could be apportioned to the wards on a basis of books borrowed.

NO ARBITRATION

P. F. Beckett, secretary, read correspondence between the Library Commission and the Saanich Council, which showed that the Commission had refused all the efforts of Saanich to attain arbitration of the points at issue.

The Saanich Council had offered to abide by a ruling by the directors of the Chamber of Commerce, and had also offered to accept the dictum of the city council as to whether Saanich should have control of library cards, but the Library Commission had been firm in refusing to recede from its view that books should be issued, at the cost of Saanich, to all card holders, and that cards should be available to all Saanich residents applying at the library desk.

Reeve Crouch stated that the cost to Saanich, some years ago, had been $1.35 per borrower, and the same year the city had paid eighty-eight cents per borrower. Since then a compilation of costs had been made, on which the present book circulation cost was based.

LOCATION UNCERTAIN

The Reeve was unable to give any information as to the status of the Carnegie rural library service to be initiated shortly in British Columbia with the aid of a grant of $100,000 from the Carnegie Corporation. He had recently interviewed Dr. Norman Black, chairman of the Provincial Public Library Commission, and advanced the advantages of Saanich and southern Vancouver Island district, as compared with the Fraser Valley and the Okanagan, the other districts being considered for the experiment.

New Grain Marketing Plan In U.S.

Minneapolis, Nov. 7. — Co-operative grain marketing agencies are to be established within a few weeks in Minneapolis and Duluth by the Farmers' National Grain Corporation, the new nation-wide co-operative institution of the Federal Farm Board. It was decided at a conference here yesterday.

The conference was attended by representatives of the farmers' elevator associations, wheat pools and farm union groups of Minnesota, the Dakotas and Montana.

Sydney J. Cottingham of Stanhope, Iowa, president of the Farmers' National Grain Corporation, presided at the conference and G. W. Connell, general manager of the Minnesota Wheat Growers' Co-operative Marketing Association, acted as secretary.

The new agencies, operating under supervision of the national corporation and the Farm Board, will handle grain for the farmers' elevator associations, wheat pools and state and local farmers unions in Minnesota, North Dakota and Montana.

POPPY CAMPAIGN

To the Editor:—As chairman of the campaign for the blind in Victoria, as an old resident of the city, as one of the executives of the local Red Cross, and honorary secretary-treasurer of the Provincial Red Cross, and as an Armistice Day observance, it is my sincere wish that the public of Victoria will not fail in their enthusiastic and generous support of the Poppy Campaign now being conducted in Victoria.

MEMORIAL AVENUE

To the Editor:—The suggestion in the letter to your paper by Mr. James Strachan very aptly points out the need of keeping Armistice Day fresh in the memory of present and future generations.

In the fine conception of Memorial Avenue, stretching from the city to Mount Douglas Park, Victoria has a fitting tribute to those who fell in the Great War.

Therefore, I would suggest that we establish a custom for all time, to hold a procession of some kind on Armistice Day along what will grow into a sacred grove of remembrance.

URGES FULL INVESTIGATION

To the Editor:—Regarding the recent passenger boat collision in the Straits, I noticed with some surprise and some other emotions a news paragraph in The Vancouver Sun, to the effect that no public inquiry would be forthcoming because no lives were lost. Surely there is little logic in this attitude, and in the public interest such a decision should be canvassed before the matter fades into oblivion. Had the impact of the two vessels come with little more force or at a slightly different angle the writer would have been gulped with the splintering woodwork and the ensuing inquiry would have been of minor interest to him.

As matters have turned out he is much interested in some sort of effective inquiry into the circumstances—not so much for the purpose of allocating blame—but to indicate possible preventives for the future.

To those of us who are untrained in the art of navigation, the skill and easy precision with which the Vancouver-Victoria boats are guided through the tortuous paths of the gulf waters, have always been a matter for great admiration. But also to those of us who retain a measure of intelligence, it is extremely difficult to realize why certain obvious precautions were not taken, precautions which would not only have prevented the collision, but which have removed its factors from the arena of possible contingency.

It is obvious that both vessels were to pass each other at a time and place known within narrow limits of error; both had wireless communication; one could have signalled to the other the exact course she was heading; a comparison of the two courses would have shown that the two were converging in character, and one of both could have been altered to render them parallel or diverging while in the danger zone.

If the exact distance apart of the two vessels had been required to be known, this could have been obtained by one of them giving simultaneously a radio and a sound signal, and the time lag between the two signals noted by the other vessel. From this observation the actual distance could have been instantly known within very narrow limits of error.

It is difficult to see why these precautions could not have been taken a week ago last Saturday morning, and much damage as well as much danger entirely averted.

UNEMPLOYMENT IN BRITAIN

To the Editor:—It must have been a shock to a great number of labor optimists in Britain, on Tuesday, to hear Mr. Thomas, our high-priced Minister of Employment, say dolefully to the expectant Parliamentary members assembled that "there is no hope whatever of work for hundreds of thousands of our fellow men, no matter what is done." No hope! Such a statement brands Mr. Thomas for all time as incompetent for his job, and after all the extravagant promises last May. Naturally, he didn't say there was "no hope" when seeking election. Everything was to be lovely, and now there is no hope. Or, in other words, quoth the raven: "Nevermore." The dispatch says his statement brought a "hush." It would. Though it might have been a misprint. It would look better written "mush."

Now there is one way to improve the situation, for it must be understood that the majority of the unemployed are casual laborers. Forty-five years ago, a reasonable number of apprentices was allowed in each craft. This permitted the rising generation to learn a trade, which meant far more opportunity of gainful occupation. In other words, there was much more "hope" in those days. As the trades unions came into being, and gained political power, they selfishly cut down the number of apprentices on the theory that there might not be enough work for their own members; until to-day, about one apprentice is allowed where seven were admitted in the good old days.

Now to see how it works. Suppose 700 youths leave school in a certain industrial area every month. One hundred only are permitted by the unions to enter a trade. The remaining 600 go on the dole right away—with the exception, of course, of a few who get menial jobs or drift into casual labor. In a few years most of the 600 are casual laborers with small chances of steady work.

But as to the 100 who started their apprenticeship. It might be said that here at least are 100 well on the way to independence. Wrong, again. Many of them have no aptitude for the trade they have chosen, others tire of it; and five years' yields perhaps fifty craftsmen out of the 700 youths let out of school. Those who fail to finish the course, probably drift into casual labor.

Now the Labor Government needs to get busy and forget these selfish rules. The average British Government is presumed to exact laws for the benefit of the people, not for a relatively small number of union workers. And don't ever forget that the moment a youth starts his apprenticeship he becomes a producer, not a dole-drawing drag on the taxpayers. The Labor Government was very emphatic in saying, five months ago, how very good it was at governing, therefore, govern, or get out. There are others of a more "hopeful" frame of mind.

NEEDS OF ISLAND WILL BE FULLY PROBED BY HIAM

make any announcement of a definite character. But I can say this: Sir Henry and the executive officers of the company have the welfare of Victoria and Vancouver Island very much at heart, and as the representative of the executive on the Pacific Coast, I will welcome all suggestions of a constructive nature which tend to show us, as a railway company, how we can assist in developing the ambitions of Vancouver Island.

"My present visit is solely for the purpose of paying my respects to the Premier and your other public officials, and to call on old friends, but I intend to return again in the course of a couple of weeks, when I will examine more closely our facilities on the island and inquire into the means which may be adopted to develop them to the interests of the people and ourselves."

Questioned concerning the schedule under which the new steamship service will be operated, Col. Hiam said this was a matter now being developed between the steamship company and the passenger traffic officers of the company, and that an announcement could be expected shortly. He expressed the belief that the schedule would prove to be of a character most convenient to citizens of Victoria desiring to visit Seattle and Vancouver. The matter of dock facilities is also under consideration and the company hopes to be able to make a definite announcement in a few days.

DIRECT LINK

Few men have had as wide an experience in transportation matters as Col. Hiam, and his appointment as the personal representative of the executive of the Canadian National Railway on the Pacific Coast forges a direct link between the interests on the Coast and general headquarters of the company in Montreal in keeping with the growing importance of the Coast and the added strength which the company is developing through the additions to its steamship, rail and hotel systems.

Col. Hiam is a Canadian. He was born in Montreal and served for many years with the Grand Trunk and Canadian Northern Railways in the east. As assistant to Sir Donald Mann, vice-president of the Canadian Northern Railway before the war, Col. Hiam was directly associated with the negotiations which brought that railway to the Pacific Coast, and he formed business contacts and friendships which he has maintained.

When war broke out Col. Hiam went overseas with the Royal Engineers and served with distinction. He was in France and Macedonia, and after the Armistice he went to Constantinople as a member of the Inter-Allied Railway Commission. Later he was appointed military director of the Anatolian section of the Baghdad Railway. Towards the end of 1919 Col. Hiam returned to Canada to engage in railway and other construction work in British Columbia, but the following year he returned to Europe at the invitation of the League of Nations to assume the position of technical adviser to the transportation section of the League. In this position he has visited every part of Europe in connection with railway and other transportation matters.

It was from this post he resigned to become assistant to the president of the Canadian National Railway.

Board Turns To Lawyers For Guidance

Saanich Trustees Enlist Legal Minds in Dispute With City

Lawyers will be given the task of untangling the situation which has developed between the Saanich and Victoria school boards regarding attendance at the Victoria High School of second year Saanich students not presenting official Saanich registration or attendance certificates.

The Saanich School Board last night referred to its solicitors a notification from the Victoria trustees that full payment for fourteen Saanich students past their seventeenth birthday, now being admitted as a result of successfully passing supplementary tests which, in the opinion of the civic authorities, qualified the students for admission at the expense of Saanich.

The Saanich board refuses recognition of accounts for students above the compulsory age unless they have passed the annual tests without supplemental. The students in question having been refused Saanich credentials, they have been admitted to the Victoria High School without the vouchers Saanich claims are essential.

CONTRACT TERMS

"The students are from Saanich, but they have not been sent to Victoria by this board, explained Trustee Fyvie. "Our contract with the Victoria board is read by us to require acceptance by the city of all second year students 'sent' by us, provided room is available. These disputed students have not been 'sent' by us."

DOORS CLOSE AT STRANGERS' REST

Mrs. A. Field Unable to Carry on Work, Known to Many,
Any Longer

"The Stranger's Rest," which for eighteen years has been a home to thousands of men newly arrived in Victoria, has closed its doors. The project had its inception in March, 1911, with Mrs. A. Field, who has since conducted the venture on an almost self-supporting undertaking. For three years it occupied quarters in the De Cosmos Building, removing in 1914 to the present site at the corner of Pandora and Government streets.

Until recent years the rest provided newcomers to the city with beds at low cost, in addition to well-served home-cooked meals. The institution was active in promotion of religion, the reading room being used nightly for Gospel meetings.

TIMELY AID GIVEN

While no appeal for financial support was made by Mrs. Field, there were many occasions of financial strain. At such times the necessities were invariably met by substantial gifts from persons often unknown to Mrs. Field, who had been impressed by the value of the work being carried on. Much of the equipment has been privately disposed of in recent months, and the closing of the Rest, will be marked to-morrow by an auction sale of the remainder of the furniture.

Over the slender steeples and the battlemented towers of the Kremlin fluttered great Red flags, which, illuminated by a brilliant noonday sun, had the appearance of big flaming sheets of fire. Within the shadow of the now empty wooden tomb of Lenin an enormous red banner was flung to the wind reading: "Proletarians of the world, stand under the banner of the Communist International. Forward to new battles and new victory."

The drone of scores of Red Army aeroplanes overhead mingled with the strains of military bands, the rumbling of dozens of military tanks and the staccato steps of marching soldiers imparted a distinctive martial touch to the scene.

SPECTACULAR RALLY IN STOCKS SEEN ON NEW YORK MARKET

In accordance with the ruling before the opening of trading Monday, today's session of the New York Stock Exchange was limited to three hours, closing at 1 p.m. Just before the close the ticker was reported seventy-two minutes late, with indications that the usual last-minute rush of trading would delay the printing of the final quotation for about two hours.

MORE TAX REDUCTION

BUSINESS INTERESTS THROUGHOUT the country will welcome the announcement from Premier King at Prince Albert that next year's budget will provide for the reduction of the sales tax by at least another one per cent.

This tax, a war legacy, always has been regarded as irritating; but when it was necessary to tap every source of revenue, this means and others had to be resorted to. The finances of the country now, however, are in such excellent shape that the day when this and some other taxes will go altogether is drawing appreciably nearer.

The present Government at Ottawa has established an enviable financial record. It has reduced many forms of taxation—especially that on moderate earnings—reduced the national debt by nearly $300,000,000, and yet revenues in various branches of the public service have increased.

Perhaps one of the most popular items in the budget of 1928 was Canada's return to two-cent postage, while the removal of the stamp tax was a much-appreciated change.

It is to be hoped that Hon. James A. Robb will have recovered sufficiently to enable him to produce another of his now famous budgets next year.

THE MYSTERY REMAINS

DR. HENRI DREYFUS, IS A SWISS scientist who has made a fortune out of the manufacture of synthetic substances. He is one of that class most dangerous to mystics—a chemist—and he believes that everything that men need, with the single exception of food, can eventually be made in the laboratory.

And Dr. Dreyfus has this to say: "If man were to live 100 years, and were to spend all of his time learning, he would still be able to obtain but a fractional per cent of all there is to know."

In that one sentence Dr. Dreyfus has sounded the death-knell for materialism, if people only realized it. What his remark means is simply this: that we do not know anywhere nearly as much about life and the world in general as we think we do. We know much more than our grandfathers knew—but still, to all intents and purposes, we are ignorant.

The old Greek philosophers, speculating on the mystery of human existence in a day when such an ordinary affair as the circulation of the blood was beyond the knowledge of the world's greatest physicians, held that man was composed of the four elements—earth, air, fire and water—mixed in varying proportions.

We know better now. We know precisely what elements are in the human body, and in what proportions. Someone has estimated that their total value is in the neighborhood of one dollar, at market prices.

Yet we do not know much more than the Greeks, at that. We know more about the mechanics of the body than they did—but why should we imagine that we know more about the ultimate mystery?

What do we know, anyway, with all our science? Only "a fractional per cent of all there is to know."

OUR BUSINESS SCOUTS

OUR TRADE COMMISSIONERS abroad are doing good work for Canadian industry; but few people have an opportunity of reading the frequent reports in which the Department of Trade and Commerce describes their activities in various parts of the world. How many people, for example, are aware of the fact that this country's Trade Commissioner in Glasgow is exerting every possible effort to sell more birch and other flooring in Scotland; that our Trade Commissioner in Liverpool is developing the market for Canadian peas and other canned vegetables in the north of England; that our Trade Commissioner in Bristol is reminding Canadian manufacturers of central heating equipment that they should be competing more successfully in that market with United States and Swedish manufacturers; that even in Hongkong and south China, according to our Trade Commissioner in that part of the Orient, Canadian producers of upper and sole leathers should be doing more business than they appear to be doing at present?

It is true our exporters are alive to the opportunities of trade development in the various parts of the British Empire and in foreign countries; yet it will have to be admitted that their salesmanship is not always as aggressive as that of other countries in keen competition with them. We had a reminder of this a few days ago in a dispatch from Seattle, which told us that British refrigerator ships were loading 500,000 boxes of Washington apples for British Empire markets, which, of course, meant that the major part of this huge consignment was destined for the wholesalers of the United Kingdom.

Our exporters may as well make up their minds to the fact that there is no magic formula by which they may sell their goods in other lands. They will have to convince buyers that they are getting better value from them than they are from others. Only by the adoption of an efficient merchandising system, supported by the sort of advertising which will arrest public attention, will it be possible for Canadian exporters to expand their business, not only with the rest of the empire, but with the world at large. It always must be borne in mind, incidentally, that there is very little sentiment in business. Quality and price in the main govern sales.

FARM MECHANIZATION AND EFFECTS

THE CANADIAN MANUFACTURERS' Association supplies some interesting statistics in connection with the importation of tractors and parts into Canada for the fiscal year ended March, 1929, and the importation of threshers and reaper threshers.

The tendency towards increasing mechanization in Canadian agriculture is of great interest, of course, to manufacturers who make farm implements, the association states, and also to the country at large because it aids agriculture. In connection with the movement of tractors from manufacturing centres to western Canada, the association remarks that tractors ceased to be manufactured in Canada after 1919, and that for the fiscal year 1919 tractors valued at not more than $3,500 each were imported into Canada, with a total value of $45,564. Importation of tractors valued at not more than $1,400 each amounted to $18,931,613; complete parts of tractors, valued at not more than $1,400 (for repair purposes), $1,866,238; tractors (n.o.p.) for farm purposes, $650,857; repairs for tractors for farm purposes (n.o.p.), $131,926; or a total of $21,626,198.

The 1927 threshers imported into Canada were valued at about $4,000,000, and in 1928 at about $8,000,000. The imports of combines, it is stated, are included in the figures of importations of threshers. It is estimated by Canadian manufacturers that importations of reaper threshers amounted to about $3,000,000 in 1927, and to approximately $7,000,000 in 1928. The report of the Department of Commerce of the United States for 1928 shows that 3,560 reaper threshers, worth approximately $5,500,000, were exported by the United States to Canada.

Regarding a statement that only about thirty per cent. of the production of the Canadian agricultural implement industry is domestically consumed, the Canadian Manufacturers' Association comments that the estimate is about half what it should be. The value of Canadian production of agricultural implements in 1928, it points out, was $37,299,694, and the exports from Canada for the same year were $15,643,381. Consequently, implements to the value of $22,284,051 were utilized in Canada. This was about fifty-seven per cent. of the total.

LUCKY CANADIAN CITIZEN

TO BE A CANADIAN CITIZEN IS TO have the greatest advantages of anyone in the world.

Premier King at Rosthern, Saskatchewan. This statement of the Prime Minister of Canada cannot be gainsaid. Canadian standards of living are better than those of any other country in the world. Small communities have their telephone services, electric light and water systems, and all the other comforts which mankind owes to modern progress.

One has only to consider general conditions in the Old World to realize the standard which this Dominion has reached in this regard. It may be that we are approaching a surfeit of what goes by the name of modern comfort, that life is being made altogether too easy and comfortable for us; but once human kind has tasted the sweets of progress as we understand them in these manifestations, it will not let go. Consequently, these standards, "the greatest advantages of anyone in the world," to which Premier King referred at Rosthern, will be enlarged from time to time.

The Prime Minister added: "No other country offers as great opportunities to young men and women as Canada." This is a declaration which nobody will challenge.

PERIPATETIC P.C.'S

The Toronto Star

A writer in an Irish paper suggests that in view of the objections that must increasingly arise in the Dominions to a final court of appeal in London, and as a Dominions' court, if established in London, might tend to become administrative as well as judicial, it might be well for the judicial committee of the Privy Council "to go around the Dominions and hear their cases on the spot."

ONE CENT EQUALS $20,000,000
Labor (Washington, D.C.)

Two transportation companies of New York City—the Interborough and the Brooklyn-Manhattan Transit Company—carried 1,971,845,150 passengers in the fiscal year ended June 30, 1929.

These two companies are trying to get a seven-cent fare, instead of the present rate of five cents. If they succeed, with no loss of traffic, these two extra pennies will bring them, in round numbers, $20,000,000. Each extra cent means $19,718,451. If the city keeps up its present rate of growth, each cent of subway or elevated fare will be worth $20,000,000 to the companies in the coming fiscal year.

Such figures explain the new system of looting a city. The crude old style of massacre, plunder and ransom is out of date. The trick now is to get control of some public utility, something that practically everyone in the community must use, and then charge everyone a cent or two more than a fair rate for the privilege of using it.

It is much pleasanter than the old method; in fact, it is so smooth that many people never notice the looting; but it produces results that make Aladdin's cave look like a magpie's hideout.

A THOUGHT

For we are saved by hope; but hope that is seen is not hope; for what a man seeth, why doth he yet hope for?—Romans viii 24.

Hope will make thee young; for Hope and Youth are children of the same mother.—Shelley.

Loose Ends

Professor Dewey sums up life—and finds it rather complicated—not as his great predecessor found it in 200 B.C.—there is a melancholy but appetizing sight on Spanish Road—and this column is right again.

By H. B. W.

PROFESSOR JOHN DEWEY, known as the United States' greatest philosopher, has just published his final conclusions about life. His book is called "The Quest for Certainty," and everywhere it is hailed as a tremendous contribution to the intellectual wealth of the world. It is something of an event. I have not read this book, but I have seen enough reviews of it to realize that I am too ignorant to understand it anyway, which appears to be the plight of all the reviewers, too. Thus, the able reviewer of The New York Times Book Review says rather helplessly that Professor Dewey has summed up his conclusions about life in three pregnant words: "The world as we experience it is a real world. But it is not in its primary phases a world that is known, a world that is understood, and is intellectually coherent and secure. Knowing consists of operations that give experienced objects a form in which relations, upon which the outward course of events depends, are securely experienced. It marks a transitional redirection and rearrangement of the real."

That is Professor Dewey's verdict, and, coming from him, we must respect it even if we don't understand it. But utterances of that sort, which only the super-erudite can make head or tail of, will confirm in the minds of the rest of us a conviction that philosophy hasn't made any startling progress since 399 B.C. At that time, you will recall, the first great philosopher was wandering about the dirty streets of old Athens, button-holing all he could see, and sending them on their way with their whole day spoiled and their whole life altered. He was easy to understand.

THIS MAN, Socrates, also summed up his conclusions about life as Professor Dewey has done, and under rather more pleasing circumstances, for he had just been condemned to death by poisoning because he insisted that his conclusions were right. And this is the final conclusion of Socrates, which you may compare with Professor Dewey's conclusion as quoted above: "Wherefore, O judges, be of good cheer about death, and know this of a truth—that no evil can happen to a good man, either in life or after death. He and his are not neglected by the gods; nor has my approaching end happened by mere chance. But I see clearly that to die and be released was better for me." And also: "We shall see that there is a great reason to hope that death is good for one of two things; either death is a state of nothingness and utter unconsciousness or, as men say, there is a change and migration of the soul from this world to another. Now if you suppose that there is no consciousness, but a sleep like the sleep of him who is undisturbed even by the sight of dreams, death will be an unspeakable gain—but if death is the journey to another place and there, as men say, all the dead are, what good, O my friends and judges, could be greater than this?"

THESE ARE superficial comparisons. It is true, but a searching inquiry, I am confident, will prove that the most outstanding fact of modern knowledge is that in these vital things it hasn't progressed an inch since the days of early Greece. Socrates, though few of us realize it, was the father of our way of our looking at life, the man who first started us thinking. And though we have many mechanical ornaments to life which would astound the old stonemason, we have never been able to equal him in modern times in the approach to life itself.

ON THE main road of Spanish you may behold these days a sight to make you feel very good, or very bad, according to your nature. In a long field, fringed with oak trees, lives a great flock of turkeys. I have watched these turkeys since babyhood, and beyond that, for I knew their parents last year, and beheld them when they first gazed out, with startled look, upon a world which looked pretty hard but was much harder than they knew. I watched them grow from clumsy little things which had a deplorable habit of lying down on their backs and dying, to the full majesty of adolescence, from featherless nudity to the glory of mighty tail feathers and red faces.

NOW, WHEN they are full grown and can strut about and roost in the trees at night and forage for worms in their newly-ploughed field, they are beginning to think that life has some purpose after all. Little do they know what fate a gluttonous species called man has prepared for them. Little do they realize the lengths to which civilized carnivora will go to satisfy their appetites. Blissfully ignorant are they of the seamy side of the spirit of Christmas. Seven weeks from now they will learn why they were so carefully nursed through babyhood, why they were fed on the best grain all summer, why they were allowed to forage for worms all over the field this autumn. They will learn then the depth of man's villainy, they will see that life had a real purpose for them, but when they see these things it will be too late. And so when they pass this flock of brown and white turkeys, all so fat and jolly in the field, many people pause and shed a tear. But most of them, tasting and breathing in anticipation the taste and the aroma that only turkeys can supply, most of them shed a tear but are quickly comforted.

THERE IS just room left in this column (which condition affords a good excuse for saying I told-you-so) to point out that some weeks ago there was recorded herein a prophecy for this season. It predicted the weather for this week in great detail and this week the weather broke and the rain came. If you will look back through the files of this paper you will see that this was in strict accordance with the prophecy and at violent variance with all official predictions. When it comes to the vital things, you can trust this column where every other department of the paper fails.

KOOTENAY LAKE RULING ON DAM IS POSTPONED

International Joint Commission Awaits Arguments of State of Idaho

Bonner's Ferry, Idaho, Nov. 7.—Idaho asked the International Joint Commission hearing here yesterday the application of the West Kootenay Light and Power Company for permission to raise the Kootenay Lake level, to postpone its decision for a year.

O. C. Wilson, of Bonner's Ferry, representing the boundary country, objected to the hearing being held at this time on the ground that Idaho had not had sufficient time to check engineering data offered by the power company in support of its proposal to raise the water six feet. The commission, composed of three Canadians and three representatives of the United States, composed of the United States company's data, but permitted Idaho to withhold an answer until some future date, which was not set.

Idaho contended raising of the water level would do serious damage to several thousand acres of agricultural lands reclaimed from the river bottom and the power company argue no damage would result.

Fifty witnesses, representing both the United States and Canada, as well as hundreds of land owners and others, attended the meeting.

STUDENT FLIER LOSES HIS LIFE

Hazbrouck Heights, N.J., Nov. 7.—Henry Forgets, a student pilot, was killed at the Teterboro airport yesterday, when he fell from the aeroplane in which he was flying with an instructor. The aeroplane had hit a downward current of air while banking 150 feet from the ground.

Two versions of the accident were given police. Witnesses on the ground said Forgets, a policeman who was piloting the dual-controlled ship, climbed from his seat, balanced for an instant on one wing and then dropped to the ground.

Lieut. G. W. West, who was flying with Forgets, said his student stood up in the cockpit to ask questions pertaining to the operation of the aeroplane and was thrown out of his seat when the craft banked.

TWENTY-FIVE YEARS AGO TO-DAY

THE VICTORIA DAILY TIMES, NOVEMBER 7, 1904

A representative of The Times called upon D. R. Ker this morning with regard to improvements the Brackman & Ker Milling Company are contemplating at New Westminster and elsewhere. Mr. Ker states it was a little premature to say that the firm has finally decided to go on with the elevator improvements, although they are giving the matter serious consideration.

R.M.S. Empress of China arrived this morning after a voyage occupying a day longer than her usual time on the transpacific run.

Weather forecast—Victoria and vicinity, northerly winds, continued fine and cold during the night.

Some time ago a committee of the board of trade was authorized to investigate the report of discrimination against Pacific coast points in favor of the cost in cable rates to the Orient.

The sudden ordering home of H.M.S. Grafton, flagship on this station, and H.M.S. Flora, now in southern waters, which is next in efficiency under Commodore Goodrich's command, has aroused all kinds of speculation in Esquimalt and Victoria. Both vessels had but forty-four hours in which to prepare to leave, and the fact that the first named was slated to recommission on this station shows what a sudden reversal there must have been in the plans of the admiralty.

The contract for the erection of the new Oak Bay Hotel was let last evening to George Mesher, Lamon, Gomonson & Company will furnish the lumber and mill work. The contract price is in the neighborhood of $13,000.

Cascara—the Perfect Laxative

Now, when the end of the day finds you feeling out of sorts; and the most tempting foods hold no enjoyment, just chew a candy tablet before bed-time. Tomorrow you'll be a new person!

You'll awake with that coating gone from your tongue. Breath will be sweetened; eyes brightened; you'll feel like doing things right, instead of just getting by.

A candy Cascara clears up a bilious, headachy, constipated condition every time. Puts appetite on edge. Helps digestion and assimilation. You sleep right on while Cascara is preparing your system for a thorough cleansing in the morning. Never a bit of sickening or discomfort when Cascara is used.

Cascara is a pure vegetable product, made from Cascara Sagrada, a substance which authorities above doubting, say actually strengthens the bowel muscles. That's why you can take these delightful tablets as often as you please; or give them freely to children. Every action of Cascara is helpful. They are a blessing to old folks!

Full medical endorsement proves their principle is right; 20 million packages used a year shows how people like them!

More Santa Claus Letters

The Victoria Times offers a prize of $25 for the best letter of not more than 150 words telling just why you know there is a Santa Claus. For the letter which is judged second to the best there is an award of $10; the third prize is $10 and the fourth $5. For the next five letters to receive honorable mention The Times will give $1.

There is only one condition attached to the contest. You must be less than twelve years old. All letters must be received at the office of The Times not later than midnight of Wednesday, November 20. Announcements of the winners with their letters will be made the following Monday, November 25.

Now is the time to get busy. There certainly is a Santa Claus and all the world knows that he lives right on top of the world, way up at the North Pole.

Of course, there are some little boys and girls who don't think there is a Santa, but that is just all they know about it. You can prove it to them now that you know there is one and he will come to see you at Christmas and with the money from your letter you can buy lots of presents and candy.

Address your letter to the Santa Claus Editor, The Victoria Daily Times, and be sure you mail it in plenty of time. Then watch The Times for your name among the winners.

JIMMIE'S BROTHER GOT A BAR OF SOAP

864 Pembroke St., Victoria, B.C. November 5, 1929

Dear Editor: The reason why I know why there is a Santa Claus, is because last Christmas when I was about almost asleep I heard some of the bells and a slight noise. After while I heard a few noisy feet on the roof and a jingle of bells, then all was quiet; in the morning when I went to get my stocking, the ashes in the fireplace were all broke over. When my big brother hung up his stocking he found a bar of soap in it, that is why I know there is a Santa Claus.

HE NEVER FORGETS JUANITA

Dear Editor: I sure do believe in Santa Claus because he fills my stocking every year. He comes to all other little girls and boys I know too. I have also seen him in Spencers and the Hudson Bay stores. He is a dear old fellow and I look forward to seeing him again this year. Just think what a sad Christmas it would be with out him. He never forgets to come.

I am seven years old. Juanita McClure, Lake Hill P.O.

"Why I believe in Santa Claus."

Dear Sir: First of all I believe in Santa Claus because I see him every Christmas and I know when I am a good girl all through the year, Santa always brings me the things I ask him for. Last year I heard Santa talking to little children over the radio. This year he has asked my Auntie Mattie to make him a nice new suit of red flannel. I was in the Hudson Bay store to see him last year, and he also came to the Barracks where he had a big Christmas tree and a present for everyone. He is a very kind old man and he must love us very much, to give us such nice things at Christmas.

I remain Your's Truly Dorothy McVie Age 7 1/2 years.

ALL SHE ASKED FOR AT SPENCERS

Dear Santa Claus

I know why there is a Santa Claus, because I hung my stocking up on Christmas Eve, in the morning I had all kinds of presents. Every thing I asked him for at Spencers he brings. One Christmas Eve I asked for a doll and he brought in the morning. Yours truly Edith Alecock Age 10

YES, THANK GOODNESS I DO, SAYS PATSY

Dear Mr. Editor: I believe in Santa because my Mother tells me about him and I think it must be dreadful to be a girl who doesn't believe in Santa.

I write to him every year and ask him for a dolly and he has always brought me one. I always try and stay awake on Xmas Eve so I can hear his jingle bells on his rein deer but somehow I always get too sleepy so that I have never seen the real Santa but I know there is one and I am looking forward to getting my stocking ready to hang up and the Xmas tree decorated to make our house look nice for him because he only comes once a year so we must have everything really nice for him. Yes I believe in Santa Claus thank goodness I do.

A SON OF ST. NICHOLAS, SAYS EUGENIA

R.R. Deep Cove Sidney B.C. Nov 2nd

Dear Sir: I know there is a Santa Claus because the first Santa Claus was Saint Nicholas and when Saint Nicholas died his son was Santa Claus and when he died his son was Santa Claus and so on down to this day. They did not call Saint Nicholas' sons Saint Nicholas because they were not Saints and that is why they called (h) him Santa Claus. Santa Claus is a very old man because he is kind and all kind people live to be old.

"IF YOU LOOK IN TIMES YOU CAN SEE HIM"

2927 Prior St. Victoria B.C.

Dear Editor: I know there is a Santa Claus, because he has always remembered Billy and I. Besides if you look in the Times paper you can see him, and find out when he is coming to town with his toys. I always hurry, and get the Times out of granddaddy's pocket, as I like to see the funnies, and to see what it says about Santa, as he ought to be here soon. Once when we lived in a little house on the West Coast, far from Victoria, I thought Santa could never find us but he did and brought

Dear Santa, I love to write letters to you. I do know there is a Santa because in Prince Edward Island at 5 o'clock last Christmas, mother said watch for Santa, but you must be good or he might miss our little house. Then we heard outside, Santa saying any good boys and girls here, and we all said, "yes." He came in and got warm, and gave us all the loveliest presents you could think of.

To The Editor Victoria Times

You want to know if I believe there is a Santa Claus? Of course I do because I have been told that the News papers do not print anything but what they know to be true. And then again I have spoken to Santa at the Hudson Bay store. Some time ago my uncle told me that there was a Santa who lived in an Igloo away up in the North. My uncle asked because he lived with the Eskimos for three years and lived in an Igloo. It must be cold where Santa comes from I wonder if he freezes his whiskers sometimes. Do you know once I posted a letter to Santa and my daddy did not know about it. At Christmas time Santa left me what I asked for. Dear Sir: I believe in Santa Claus because on Christmas Eve, I hung up my stocking and Santa filled it. I got candy, oranges and other things in my stocking. I asked for a suit-case and Santa brought it. I heard Santa Claus filling up my stocking, but I did not tell my brother and sister that Santa Claus was here. I believe in Santa Claus because I saw him in Hudsons Bay Store and at Spencers Store.

FROM A YOUNG AUTHOR

Saint Nicholas

Once upon a time there lived a very good man called Saint Nicholas. Any one who came to his house he would give all the comforts he needed. One day a poor peasant came to his house and asked for something to eat. And of course Saint Nicholas gave him something. When he was going the man said, I will reward you for all your kindness by when you die your spirit will still live going around giving to children when they hang up their stockings. Saint Nicholas's other name is Santa Claus.

I believe in him because he teaches us how to give, and because God gave us his only son Jesus Christ, the best gift of all.

MINISTER TO ADDRESS CLUB WEDNESDAY

Col. the Hon. J. L. Ralston Will Be in City Next Week

On his first visit to Victoria since he received the portfolio of National Defence in the MacKenzie King Government, Colonel the Hon. James Layton Ralston, P.C., K.C., C.M.G., D.S.O. (with bar), D.C.L., will arrive here next week and will address the Men's Canadian Club at luncheon in the Empress Hotel on Wednesday at 12.15 o'clock.

P. E. Fowler, president of the Canadian Club, will preside at the luncheon.

Although prominent in public life for many years, Col. Ralston is the ranking junior member of the King administration, having joined the Cabinet on September 23, 1926. He is recognized as a brilliant speaker.

Prior to the Great War, Col. Ralston was a member of the Nova Scotia Legislature. During the war he served with distinction overseas. He received several decorations and was twice mentioned in dispatches.

Col. Ralston was appointed by the Federal Government as chairman of the Royal Commission on Pensions and Re-establishment in 1922.

Although defeated in Halifax in the general election, he succeeded to the seat of Senator Hadfield upon the latter's appointment to the Senate, and after accepting a portfolio in the Liberal Government was elected by acclamation on November 2, 1926, to represent the Shelburne-Yarmouth constituency of Nova Scotia.

Col. Ralston's visit to Victoria will coincide with that of Premier MacKenzie King, whose itinerary will bring him to Victoria on Wednesday.

Five special concerts at the Empress Hotel this season, November 14, December 11, January 23, March 28, April 11.

Reduce the Acid

In sick stomachs—Instantly

Sick stomachs, sour stomachs and indigestion usually mean excess acid. The stomach nerves are over-stimulated. Too much acid makes the stomach and intestines sour.

Alkali kills acid instantly. The best form is Phillips' Milk of Magnesia, because one harmless, tasteless dose neutralizes many times its volume in acid. Since its invention, 50 years ago, it has remained the standard with physicians everywhere.

Take a spoonful in water and your unhappy condition will probably end in five minutes. Then you will always know what to do. Crude and harmful methods will never appeal to you. Go prove this for your own sake. It may save a great many disagreeable hours.

Be sure to get the genuine, Phillips' Milk of Magnesia, prescribed by physicians for 50 years in correcting excess acids. Each bottle contains full directions—any drugstore.

"What, lipstick?"

Women Still Fighting For Mrs. MacGill

Vancouver Committee Sending Resolution to All Women's Bodies

Women's organizations throughout the Province are to receive a copy of a resolution passed on Tuesday by the Vancouver committee of women who are fighting for the restoration of Mrs. Helen Gregory MacGill to the position of juvenile court judge of the mainland city.

Nothing daunted by the recent refusal of Premier Tolmie to reconsider the case of Mrs. MacGill, the women are continuing their campaign on her behalf, according to Mrs. Rex Eaton, the chairman, and at Tuesday's meeting the committee unanimously passed the following resolution:

"Whereas the women of British Columbia are intensely interested in applying modern social intelligence to the treatment of juvenile delinquency, family maintenance, crime prevention, youth and industrial protection, and allied problems to the end that self-reliant and upright character may be developed in our citizens;

"And whereas much constructive work in these fields has been accomplished in the Province through the efforts of our pioneer woman judge in the juvenile court, who was first appointed in 1917 by Order-in-Council 1467 to the Vancouver juvenile court, and whose jurisdiction was enlarged in 1923 by Order-in-Council 216 in response to popular request;

"And whereas the smaller jurisdiction only of Order-in-Council 187 was rescinded on February 18, 1929;

"Therefore be it resolved: That we request that this jurisdiction which our pioneer judge legally holds be defined, extended and stipended with a view to satisfactory adjustment, and that the dignity of our pioneer worker and her valuable past contributions be considered;

"That copies of this resolution be sent to the committee on reinstatement, 1070 Devonshire Crescent, for the purpose of being forwarded to the proper authorities."

Hustlers' Club Plans Frolic

A grand frolic and gala dance will be held at the Temple Hall, North Park Street, on Friday at 8 p.m. under the auspices of the Hustler Club of this city. This is one of the most ambitious functions ever undertaken by this group of young men, whose organization has become well known throughout the city for its enterprise, and these young men have prepared a program at which the large number of guests who will attend, will be surprised.

This youthful corps of clubmen will act as hosts to a great crowd on Friday evening and they have spared no time, energy or expense in arranging a gala night. A very expensive ride will be given away. There will be new games of every description, and Pitt's orchestra will provide the music. Refreshments will be served.

The Protestant Orphanage will be the beneficiary from the function. Exhibition dances by the Russian School of Ballet Dancing will intersperse the regular dance programme.

Rocky Point Party—The Rocky Point annual Halloween party was held at the home of Mrs. Dren on Wednesday, October 30. The prize winners for the fancy dress costumes were Florence Thornhill, John Luky and Gladys Dren. An enjoyable supper was served by Mrs. Dren, assisted by Mrs. H. Parker and Miss Moody.

Because of Armistice Day the regular meeting of the local association of Canadian Girl Guides will be held on Tuesday, November 12, at 5 p.m. at guide headquarters.

Girl's Skeleton Found; Woman Truck And Dies Being Sought From Injuries

Camden, N.J., Nov. 7.—Police yesterday sought Gladys Parks, or Gladys Baker, sought for questioning in connection with the finding last week of the skeleton of an eight-year-old girl in a wooded area near National Park, N.J. A warrant for the woman's arrest was issued after Allen N. Rogers, Woodbury Insurance man, had identified the skeleton as that of his daughter, Dorothy.

Police think the woman may be in St. Louis.

Rogers said his wife died a year ago and that May he placed two of his six children in the care of the woman he knew as Mrs. Bernard Baker.

"This woman was a cousin of my wife," Rogers said. "She came to Woodbury and requested me to let her have one of my children. Her husband, who was with her, persuaded her to have two, so she took Dorothy and Tim, two years old."

"In July I went to her rooming house in Camden to get the children. She told me they were staying in a home in Philadelphia. Later I went to the rooming house again and was told she had moved."

"The last time I heard from her was a post card from Conny Island, N.Y., mailed in September. She said the children were well and that she planned to go to Canada."

George Parks, sixty-four, father of the missing woman, is held by authorities here as a material witness.

Only immediate friends and relatives were present. Y.M.C.A. TEA DREW OVER 500 GUESTS

Ladies' Auxiliary and Assistant Organizations Hostesses Yesterday at Big Affair

His Honor the Lieut-Governor Compliments Women on Their Work For Institution

Nearly 500 guests showed their active interest in the work of the Y.M.C.A. by attending the very delightful guest tea held at the institution yesterday afternoon under the auspices of the Ladies' Auxiliary. His Honor the Lieutenant-Governor and Mrs. Mackenzie, accompanied by Capt. W. Hobart Molson, were among the distinguished guests welcomed by Mrs. J. H. Fletcher, the president, and her executive committee.

The handsome sum of $372.40 will accrue to the auxiliary's funds as a result of the affair.

The gymnasium presented an unusually festive appearance on the occasion, flags and bunting forming a colorful background for the daintily appointed tea tables arranged by the various hostesses. So large was the throng of guests that the galleries were pressed into service to accommodate tea tables for the first time since the institution of this annual affair.

AIMS EXPLAINED
Mrs. Fletcher, after tendering a message of greeting to the guests, outlined the work of the Ladies' Auxiliary and told something of the aims of the "Y" as a centre wherein the younger men of the community might pursue healthful and wholesome activities. She said that the auxiliary carried out the women's part by looking after the domestic side, replenishing linen and other dormitory supplies. To furnish these supplies funds were necessary, and to achieve the desired result the auxiliary had instituted three annual undertakings, including a membership drive, the guest tea, and the annual linen shower, for which Mrs. Agnew generously lent her home.

LIEUTENANT-GOVERNOR SPEAKS
In replying to the president's greeting on behalf of the guests, His Honor complimented the ladies who had so effectively carried out the arrangements for the tea and who worked so indefatigably throughout the year for the benefit of the Y.M.C.A. Victoria was to be congratulated on possessing such an institution, and anyone would also feel grateful to the Rotarians, the Kiwanians, and other service groups for aiding numbers of young members in the "Y" and helping the "Y" during the paths of good citizenship.

Endorsing His Honor's tribute, B. C. Nicholas said that but for the work of the Women's Auxiliary, the Y.M.C.A. would never have attained its present sound position in the community. Everyone must be impressed with the extraordinary transformation which had been effected in the "Y" during the last few years, and the change was largely due to the activities of the auxiliary, he said.

Mrs. J. O. Cameron was responsible for the attractive musical programme to which Miss Vivian Bagshaw and Dr. T. H. Johns contributed vocal solos. Miss Adele Bucklin, violin selections, and Miss Betty Mac Cameron and Billy Cameron, who gave several tap dances with dainty grace and childish abandon.

Mrs. Clifford Wain lent sympathetic support to the piano. Tea was served at 4 o'clock, the tables presenting a most attractive appearance with their snowy linen and dainty appointments. The head table, convened by Miss Agnew and Mrs. James Fletcher, had the Y.M.C.A. colors, red and white, carried out with poinsettias and white carnations, and red candles in silver candleabra. Mrs. S. F. Tolmie, Mrs. Herbert Anson, Miss Agnew and Miss Sarah Spencer poured tea.

Among the guests at the head table were His Honor the Lieutenant-Governor and Mrs. Mackenzie, Captain W. H. Molson, Mrs. S. F. Tolmie, Mayor and Mrs. Anson, Hon. J. Hinchcliffe and Mrs. Hinchcliffe, Mrs. S. L. Howe, Mrs. W. A. Mackenzie, Mrs. F. F. Burden, Mr. and Mrs. R. E. Butcher, Rev. Montague Bruce, Mr. and Mrs. C. P. Hill, Mr. B. C. Nicholas, Mrs. J. S. Plaskett, Mrs. J. Campbell, Mrs. Angus Campbell, Mr. and Mrs. T. L. Swan, Mr. W. B. Langlan, Miss Sarah Spencer, Mrs. Louchee, Miss Louchee, Miss Stokes, Miss Agnew, Miss Bagshaw, Mrs. C. H. Brown, Mrs. H. P. Hodges, Mrs. Wainlin, Miss Watling, Mr. and Mrs. J. O. Cameron, Mr. and Mrs. George Bucklin, Mr. J. A. Dillworth, Mr. and Mrs. William Atkinson and Mr. and Mrs. Warren.

The Women's Canadian Club table, which was decorated with yellow chrysanthemums and blue candles, was convened by Mrs. J. H. Penndray and Mrs. D. B. McComan, with Mrs. E. B. Scurr, Mrs. C. C. Spofford, Mrs. H. F. Crowe and Mrs. Peter McNaughton pouring tea.

YOUR BABY and MINE

by MYRTLE MEYER ELDER

Mrs. Elder will be glad to answer all questions pertaining to babies and children. A stamped and self-addressed envelope forwarded to this office will bring a personal reply.

Mrs. L.H. writes: "Here is another poor soul in distress! My little girl is eight months old, weighs twenty-two pounds, not fat but solid. She has been standing and walking around in her crib for several weeks and I fear for the effect on her legs. They look curved now, but will they be later? Everyone says they will straighten out. Don't tell me to keep her off them, for I've tried everything but tying her down, and it doesn't work."

"I am trying to teach her to take some of her milk from a cup. She will take about two ounces but no more. Is she too young to be deprived of the bottle? How would you meet this situation?"

"She takes cereals, vegetables, soups and fruit juices. Also hard toast. I have her regulated to her stools until she began vegetables, now I can't catch her. What shall I do?"

"I don't know what I would do without your column."

"Let's hope you won't have to do without this column. The legs will straighten providing there is no rickets. Fat rickets babies usually can't be pushed on to their feet when they are months older than yours. Let the baby alone. Feed her right, give her cod liver oil this winter and don't force her to use her legs except in the natural way—crawling and trying to walk."

Let her take two ounces daily from a cup, each day trying to get a wee bit more in the cup and encouraging her to finish it. If you never scold, never act cross because of her failure to take more in her cup feedings, let her have a small cup that she can handle herself and smile at her and praise her when it is "all gone!" then in three or four months you can expect that she will be draining any size cup you give her and the bottle can be taken out of her life entirely.

Perhaps you are feeding too much of the vegetable daily, otherwise the effect on the bowels wouldn't be so violent. Cook the vegetables well, push them through a fine, wire sieve and reduce the amount to one to two teaspoonfuls daily, gradually increasing.

Learning, whether an infant or adult process, has its ups and downs. The baby learns a new habit, as his mother thinks, perfectly; then there is a relapse to the old baby habit and she is discouraged. Don't be. Consider this normal curve of learning. It happens whether a person is learning to type, write, or baby is learning to talk, or to have toilet habits. Expect that there will be some regression, then more progress, habit will be learned and established. Do your part. Going to the toilet should be divorced from all unpleasantness if you expect to solidify the habit. Never spank the baby, or shame her. If there is a slip, be sorry but encouraging. It won't happen again. This attitude helps baby to make the effort not to let it happen again.

LOCAL GIRL ON STRING QUARTET

Miss Mary Bucklin of Victoria Honored at Mills College, California

(Special to The Victoria Daily Times) Oakland, Cal., Nov. 7.—Of such interest to music lovers is the organization of a new student string quartette at Mills College, California, under the direction of Miss Kathleen Parlow, one of the distinguished members of the Mills College faculty, Miss Parlow plays first violin in the Parlow String Quartette, which this year is giving a series of sixteen concerts on the college campus. Critics acclaim her as the leading woman violinist in the musical world to-day.

The personnel of the student string quartette includes: First and second violin, Miss Doris Ballard of Oakland, California, and Miss Nancy Thomas of Sacramento, California; viola, Miss Beth Bosch of San Mateo, California; alternates for violoncello, Miss Noel Marchant of Oakland, California, and Miss Mary Bucklin of Victoria, B.C. Miss Bucklin, who is majoring in music at Mills College, is the daughter of the American consul, George A. Bucklin, of Victoria, B.C. She is studying cello under William Doherty, first cellist of the San Francisco Symphony Orchestra.

The student quartette was selected from among the music majors at Mills College by the members of the Parlow Quartette, which includes: Kathleen Parlow, first violin; Willem Wegman, second violin; Lajos Penster, viola, and Willem Deise, violoncello. According to Luther B. Marchant, dean of the Music School, there is great competition for a place in the student quartette as scholarships in it were made possible last year through the generous co-operation of the Stradivarius Quartette which played at Mills College for three months during the summer and is returning to the campus for another three months this spring. The Stradivarius Quartette includes: Wolfe Wolfman, first violin; Alfred Pochon, second violin; Nicolas Moldovan, viola, and Gerald Waldberg, violoncello.

Air Romance Bride Wins Divorce And Fortune From Broker

New York, Nov. 7.—For the second time in her brief career of twenty-five years, the comely Mrs. Edith Murphy Belpusi Healy came back to New York with a Reno divorce decree.

While her suit for separation from Percy C. Healy, one of Wall Street's wizards of finance, was pending for trial on the supreme court calendar here, Mrs. Healy quietly slipped out to Nevada to her favorite divorce court. There, on the grounds of incompatibility, etc., as she smiled her prettiest, Mrs. Healy importuned the court to give her another decree.

PAID OFF IN FULL This time she came back with a certified check that will net her the $500,000 bankroll of the junior member of the Stock Exchange House of Dominick & Dominick, for plenty. You can well imagine the size of it when you learn that to get it she waived forever the alimony of $800 a month awarded her by Supreme Court Justice Townley last spring.

Leo T. Kiseam, attorney for Mrs. Healy, declined to shed any light on the magnitude of Healy's parting gift to his pretty former bride. In fact, Mr. Kiseam would not admit that his client had been out to Reno at all.

PROPOSED IN PLANE Just a year ago last August, the Healy's took the vows and left for Europe on the honeymoon-de-luxe. This followed a whirlwind courtship in which Healy took the girl of his heart up into the clouds in an aeroplane and told her they wouldn't hit terra firma again until she promised to marry him.

There she was in a mile-high sky-chaser with no parachute. She couldn't jump anywhere except into Healy's arms.

Their marriage took place two months after Mrs. Healy returned from her first trip to Reno. Out there she divorced a young man named Belpusi, with whom she lived only six weeks.

Rockland Park W.C.T.U.—Rockland Park W.C.T.U. held a very interesting and inspiring meeting at the home of Mrs. Whitley, Yates Street, Mrs. John Hall presiding. After the usual routine business Mrs. Keyworth delighted the meeting by singing a solo. Mrs. Lloyd Campbell gave a reading on "Peace and Arbitration," and the union went on record again as praying and working for peace. A donation was sent to Montreal towards the building of an hostel there. Members were reminded of the district meeting to be held every third Friday. Plans were discussed concerning the Sunday-school campaign, a committee formed, being Mrs. Hall, Mrs. Hood, Mrs. Burton and Mrs. Lloyd Campbell. At the close of the meeting Mrs. Whitley, assisted by Mrs. Koyl, served very dainty refreshments. The next meeting will be held at Mrs. Laing's home, 1123 Ormond Street, on December 2.

Liberal Women's Forum.—The monthly meeting of the Liberal Women's Forum will be held in the headquarters, Government Street, on Friday, November 8, at 2.45. C. H. O'Halloran will give an address on "Trade Within the Empire."

Current Events Club.—A meeting will be held in the Y.W.C.A. on Friday night at 8 o'clock to organize a current events club. Mrs. Hugh McKenna will be in charge, and the meeting promises to be very interesting. A cordial invitation is extended to all.

One washday I went on strike

Now I get whiter washes—without hard work... let me tell you my secret

I WAS ready to scream! I had rubbed, rubbed, rubbed all morning. I just couldn't get the clothes white enough. The kitchen was unbearably hot. Any minute the children would be hurrying home from school for their lunch...

Oh, how I hated washday! I dumped the half-white clothes into a boiler of steaming suds. Still another tub of clothes to struggle with... suddenly I burst into tears. I just couldn't scrub another thing.

"I've gone on strike!" I told my husband that night. "I'm not going to kill myself scrubbing clothes—I've got enough to do taking care of the house and the children."

"You're right," he said. "Washday is wearing you out. We've got to do something about it."

The next day I was telling my troubles to my neighbour. "How do you get such a nice snowy wash?" I asked her. "You never seem worn out from scrubbing, the way I do."

"Scrubbing? Why, that's old-fashioned! Don't you know that nowadays the whitest washes are just soaked and rinsed?"

And then she told me about Rinso. How its thick suds soak out dirt and stains... and wash clothes whiter so easily, so safely. Next washday I tried it, and my, what a difference! No soap I ever used was even half so marvelous. My wash was out of the way even before the children came home from school. The invisibles wash I ever saw!

Rinso certainly changed my washday to a day of comfort.

It makes no difference whether you use wash tub or washing machine—just follow the easy directions and Rinso will give you a whiter wash than you ever thought possible.

...Soaks clothes whiter

THE SPORTS MIRROR

"Slim" Halderson Wants to Perform With Victoria Cubs

NATIONAL HOCKEY LEAGUE heads are looking forward to the coming season which gets under way on Friday night, without alarm. They believe that the new rules, which are calculated to speed up the play and result in more goals being scored, will satisfy the public. It was not without due deliberation that the rule-makers accepted almost wholly the rules of Frank Patrick, as used in the Pacific Coast Hockey League. Fans criticized the eastern moguls last year, the absence of goals being the main issue in dispute, so the bosses took a desperate step that may bring the desired results. In the past it was possible for mediocre teams to hold opponents to 1-0 and 0-0 scores. It is not likely that this will happen again, in which event there will be plenty of grief for Chicago, Pittsburgh, and other centres where the teams are not so strong. Toronto, Montreal, New York and Boston should have little to worry about. They will be represented by powerful clubs.

The most absorbing question in the training camp of the New York Rangers at Springfield, Mass., these days centres around the whereabouts of "Ching" Johnson. Where is the husky defence star? Although the opening of the National Hockey League is only a couple of days away, no word has as yet been received of or from him. Recent reports have quoted Johnson as saying that he intends playing hockey this winter, but "Ching" himself has not confirmed this directly with either Col. John S. Hammond, president of the Rangers, or Lester Patrick, manager of the Blue Shirts. No one connected with the Rangers organization has heard anything from him since the close of last season. He has at times been variously reported in Boston, Toronto and Winnipeg, but where he is at the present is not known.

Col. Hammond in New York does not appear to be worried by any appreciable extent, and Patrick seems to feel confident Johnson will report for duty. But time is growing short. The Rangers have been in training for a couple of weeks. Johnson is the only member of the combined Ranger and Springfield Indian squads who has not reported. Altogether twenty-seven players of the club are in training under the joint direction of Patrick and Frank Carroll.

Johnson has had an eventful and colorful career. He first came into prominence at Winnipeg, home of many sterling players, and then he went to Eveleth, Minn., where he was the star of the mining town. His brother Ade, one of the fastest skaters in the world but not a hockey star, also lined up with Eveleth, but five years ago Eveleth decided that they didn't need Ade's services any more, so the brothers departed for Minneapolis, and Eveleth lost their star player. George McDuff, former Ego coach, offered National League owners to sign Johnson, but this occurred in the days when N.H.L. magnates didn't believe that there were any capable hockeyists in the amateur ranks. They thought they had shared them all; so when Johnson demanded $4,000 a year they simply threw up their hands. But the awakening came and Toronto offered Johnson a three-year contract at $6,000 a season. In the meantime, however, Connie Smythe, representing the Rangers, stepped in and landed "Ching." Toronto was willing to go as high as $8,000 a year, but Johnson signed with New York.

In New York they are wondering how much money "Babe" Ruth will receive for next year's campaign with the New York Yankees. They know that the home-run slugger has demanded $100,000, but they fear that Col. Jacob Ruppert, owner of the Yanks, has other plans, and that Ruth will not get more than $80,000. Over in Flatbush, which is Brooklyn, the owners are faced with a problem in that "Dazzy" Vance, who wasn't much of a dazzer this past season, is unwilling to work for less than $25,000 a season. He rates himself quite highly in a financial way, but if he gets more than $15,000 for the 1930 race pudge Wilbert Robinson may find himself out of a job. "Bobby" is regarded as being passed as a pilot, and the McKeever interests are seeking his scalp. Robinson, however, holds the whip-hand in that he is vice-president, and controls much of the stock.

CANADIENS will not lack for their greatest commodity, speed, when they start jousting for the gonfalon in the N.H.L. circuit. They have plenty of this force and apt, and their new corners are also well equipped when it comes to outbursts in this direction. Cecil Hart sets a great store by the possibilities of Armand Mondou, whom he predicts will be one of the sensation of the season. Mondou, who weighs close to 170 pounds, broke, in last year with considerable of a clatter, and before the end of the year was working a number of Canadians in a manner that betokened future stardom. Canadiens have apparently polished up this performer to a point where he is going to be one of their finest effective.

Nels Stewart, whose deadly shot keeps rival goaltenders mumbling in their sleep, has, as predicted, taken to the new rules with great assurance. His forte, that of cruising aimlessly about, and suddenly darting in on the nets to hurl high velocity drives on hapless goalkeepers is now seen at its best. The additional pleasure which comes to Nels from loitering inside the attacking for a pass is shown by the manner in which he is tearing along in workouts.

SCOTTISH WORK-OUT The 19th Canadian Scottish senior and intermediate rugby teams will hold a practice to-night at 8 o'clock in the Armories. All players are asked to turn out.

Former Member of the Victoria Cougars Wires Stanley Patrick, Asking for Berth on Local Team; Not Needed at Present Time; Has Been Playing With Tulsa in American Association; Redpath Declared Property of Victoria by Frank Calder, Hockey Czar.

"Slim" Halderson, former star defence player of the Victoria Cougars, who brought the Stanley Cup, emblematic of the world's hockey championship, to this city, wants to come back to the Capital City and play hockey. This announcement was made this morning by Stanley Patrick, president of the Victoria Cubs, who received a wire from Halderson yesterday asking if he could catch a berth on the local team.

Patrick stated he had wired Halderson the Cubs would not be able to use him at present. The Cubs have practically lined up their team for the season, and Patrick figures the ex-Cougar would not be of any great help to the Cubs in their campaign for the 1929-30 Pacific Coast Hockey League championship. However, should Patrick find himself in need of a defence player it is possible he may bring Halderson out.

"Slim," as he was popularly known to hundreds of Victoria fans, was a popular Cougar. Weighing around 190 pounds he played a good game on the defence along with Gordon Fraser and Clem Loughlin. For the last two years Halderson has been playing with Tulsa in the American Association, but the big fellow states he is sick of the oil town and would like to come out to the coast again, where he played for several seasons.

Halderson came to Victoria two years after Frank Fredrickson. Both of them were members of the old Winnipeg Falcons, who captured the Allan Cup, representative of the Dominion amateur hockey championship, and the following year represented Canada at the Olympic games, where they were successful in capturing the world's championship. Halderson has the distinction of being one of the few players who has been a member of the world's pro and amateur champions.

The first real action on the case of Oliver Redpath, Cub defence player, who has been trying out with the Pittsburgh Pirates, was obtained yesterday when Frank Patrick, president of the Coast League, received word from Frank Calder, N.H.L. president, that the Pirates had been informed Redpath was the property of Victoria. Redpath must either report to the Cubs or be given notice of a trade or sale by the local management before he can play with any team in organized hockey.

It is not known definitely just what move Redpath will make, but it is possible that he will come back to Victoria this winter.

BADMINTON MATCH WON BY DUNCAN

Up-island Stars Hand Willows Representatives Defeat By 21-9 Score

Marjorie Leeming Stars For Visitors, Winning Five Matches

A team of players representing the Duncan, Badminton Club visited town last evening and played the Willows Club on their courts in a regular Division "A" match. The visitors won by a score of twenty-one matches to nine. Included in their lineup were a number of the outstanding players on the island, and they lived up to advance expectations when they trimmed the home club, which had previously beaten the strong Garrison Club in a friendly match. On last night's showing Duncan will be heavy favorites to wale away with the first division trophy.

The Bazett Brothers, who are said to be the strongest pair on the island, experienced keen competition from the Phillips brothers, who extended their well-known opponents to three long and bitter sets before admitting defeat. The winners put on a rally in the final set, and just nosed out the Willows pair, who finally lost 17-14.

Imay and Clarke, the Willows' second pair, came in for the heaviest programme of the evening when their three men's doubles matches went to the extra set in each case. They lost to the Bazett brothers, who won all their matches, but won from the second and third Duncan pairs.

Marjorie Leeming, who is considered to be strong enough to be a leading player in the province, appeared in the Duncan party and contributed to the winning of the match by coming out on top in five matches. Miss Leeming shows the same court-craft that she does in tennis, and if she could go out for tournaments on a larger scale could reach the top without much difficulty.

Summarizing the evening's play the visitors, in winning the match, took eight of the nine ladies' doubles, and in the men's doubles won four and lost five. In the mixed, their edge was more apparent, when they won nine and lost three.

Following are the results, with Duncan players first mentioned.

FOUREX TO MEET "Y"

Will Break Tie For Second Place in Senior "C" Group of Basketball Loop

To-night three basketball games will be played at the Centennial gymnasium with two Senior "C" men's games, and one Intermediate "A" game forming the card.

During the last few weeks, fans have sometimes been disappointed through different teams not showing up to fulfill their schedule, so the league executive has given the Doo-Dads, last year's Island Intermediate "B" champions, the right to fill in any gap that might appear in an evening's entertainment. These youngsters are capable of putting up a great fight in any class and when they fill in for the J.B.A.A. Intermediate "A" hoopers to-night, their opponents, the Victoria College are not in for any easy victory.

The College are at present leading their league and as they gain two points to-night they will have quite a lead on the other entries.

In the second game the Fourx will try conclusions with the Y.M.C.A. Both teams will be out to take this game as they are at present tied for second position and both sides need a victory to stay on the heels of the Foresters who are at the head of this division.

In the final game the boys from Keating will play the Mac and Mac quintette. Each of these teams has lost one game and to stay in the first half race both need a win.

The complete card follows:
7:30—Exhibition: Doo-Dads vs. Col-legs.
8:34—Senior "C": Fourx vs. Y.M.C.A.
9:00—Senior "C": Keating vs. Mac and Mac and Prior.

MABEE'S TRY GIVES HIGH SCHOOL MATCH

Runs Fifty Yards to Defeat University School in Exhibition Rugby 3-0

Young Players Tackle Well But Fumble on Runs; Play Evenly Divided

Taking advantage of a lucky break in the third minute of the second half, Bob Mabey, half-back for Victoria High School, ran fifty yards for a touchdown that gave his team a 3-0 victory over University School in the exhibition rugby game played at the former's home ground yesterday. Apart from the single score the teams battled evenly throughout the match and practically shared play until the final whistle.

Opening on the attack, University School ran the ball into the High school's half. The High boys rallied and forced play to midfield.

Brinkley gained ground with a good kick and again the Mount Talmie squad hemmed the High in their own ground.

HIGH PRESSING.
Yard by yard the home team backed back to centre. Macmurchie received the ball from a loose scrum and sent it down the field with a high pass to Len Bapty, following up, dropped his man inside the University twenty-five line. Following the resulting scrum the University backs blocked every offensive play made by the High, but failed to keep them out of their ground.

After a sustained attack in their own end, the Mount Talmie forwards dribbled the ball down to the High line and hammered away at the latter's defense. Patrick received the ball and broke away on a pretty run, but was stopped in midfield.

From centre, the High three-quarters started a combination run that brought Colgate within an ace of scoring.

However the University line held and by the half time whistle play had returned to midfield.

MABEE GOES OVER.
Three minutes after the start of the second half the University School started a nice three-quarter run from their own twenty-five. Near centre Richardson shot a high pass to Leg-gatt. Mabey closing in on Legatt, intercepted and raced down the sideline to University's end. At the line Mason tackled him but Mabey dragged him over and fell on the ball for the only score of the game. Mabey failed to convert from a difficult angle.

From the kick-off the High School again forced play to the University end on forward rushes. On the five yard line one of them kicked ahead and the Mount Talmie boys gained a twenty-five yard kick.

High School returned but were hammered back into their own ground. UNIVERSITY ATTACKS.

Five Victoria Ballplayers Are Still Suspended

Five of the eleven players of the Senior Amateur Baseball League who played against the Victoria Capitals in two exhibition games on Labor Day have been indefinitely suspended owing to the fact that they have failed to write letters of apology to the league. The other six players sent in their letters and have been restored to good standing in the eyes of the local officials.

Just what will happen to the other five will be left in the hands of the British Columbia Amateur Baseball Association. The five who are indefinitely suspended are: Jack Bacon, Colin Campbell, Bill Holman and Orville Falconer of the Sons of Canada, and Steve Dunc of the Eagles.

Although the Mount Talmie squad showed the rudiments of a better combination game than their opponents and punted as well, they failed to follow down on their kicks and lacked the aggressiveness of their opponents.

Both teams' tackling was good. Roy Gaunt, handling the whistle, Roy Gaunt handled the whistle.

The teams were as follows:
University—Mason, McDonald, Northrop, Richardson, Legatt, Hager, Brinkley, Hess, Smith, Keate, Hornbrook, Nichols, Mortimer, Bristow and Worthington.

High—Moore, Humber, Bapty, Colgate, Mabey, Patrick, Macmurchie, Scott, de Blaquiere, Lund, Leeming, Thorpe, Petch, Milligan and Guzman.

Will Oppose Local Natators In Quest For Championships

Thirteen Provincial Titles To Be at Stake When Swimmers and Divers Perform at Crystal Garden Pool on Monday Night; Local Y.M.C.A. and V.A.S.C. Will Pit Best Against Mainlanders; Recent Gala in Vancouver Shows Invaders Have Formidable Squad.

In quest of the thirteen British Columbia aquatic championships at stake in the V.A.S.C. annual gala at the Crystal Garden on Monday evening, twenty-one Vancouver swimmers will invade Victoria on Thanksgiving Day, according to the entry list received from V. J. Dunn this morning. Of these, fourteen will represent Crescent Beach, six the Vancouver Amateur Swimming Club, and one Varsity.

Against this band of picked natators, Victoria will send the best material in the V.A.S.C. and Y.M.C.A. and the local swimmers will have to show plenty of speed to overcome the visitors.

According to the list sent this morning, Gordon Knechtie, James Lamb and Hughie Lamb will compete in the 100-yard men's B.C. championship, 100-yard school championship and fifty-yard junior championship.

Cecil West will swim in the 100-yard breast stroke title event, and Pat Haley in the 100-yard free-style.

SIX WOMEN ENTERED

Kay Davidson and Peggy Harlan will enter the ladies' plunge and 100 yards school girls' race. Frances Glask will carry the Crescenta's colors in the 100-yard school girls' race and 200-yard free-style. Mary McLean and Helen Anderson are scheduled to take part in the fifty-yard junior and 100-yard school girls' races, while the former will also swim in the 200-yard free-style. She will be joined in the latter event by her club mate, Marion Shelly.

Jack Crysdale and Frank Penwell will plunge. The latter will also try for the three-metre board diving championship.

"Chuck" Hills, popular amateur coach and former holder of the Canadian breast stroke title, will swim in the 100-yard breast stroke event. Both men's and women's relay teams will also be entered from Crescent Beach.

BURROWS LEADING TEAM
George Burrows will lead the Vancouver Amateur Swimming Club team. He will swim in the 100 and 500-yard free-style races and will plunge. While Gerry S. Woodrow will take a crack at the fifty-yard junior and 100-yard school boys' titular events, E. S. Jaquast will try for honors in the junior fifty.

Fred Denon will join Burrows in the plunge, while Syd Summers will compete in the men's 100-yards sprint. Four of the fastest members of the club will form the relay team.

Ron Wilson is the one Varsity entry. He will swim the 100 yards and 500 yards races for the free-style.

Ruth Marriot and Ted Slingsby, two Victoria swimmers now staying in Vancouver, will be over for the meet and will swim for local clubs.

Comments included in a letter from Mr. Dunn intimates the visitors to be of considerable strength.

CONSIDERED STRONG
Knechtie is reported to have cracked thirty seconds for fifty yards and can swim the hundred in sixty-eight. Cecil West, one of their breast stroke winners, completed the 100 yards in seventy-eight seconds to win the interclub event held in Vancouver last Monday. Pat Haley and Kay Davidson are swimming well and are good swimmers during the recent meet in the Terminal City. In addition to being a swimmer of note, Kay was, until recently, British Columbia women's diving champion. Peggy Harlan appears to be their best bet in the plunge. On Monday she won the event with a distance of fifty-four feet. Francis Glask has been showing good form all season, and is reported to be the fastest woman in Vancouver at back stroke.

WINNERS LAST MONDAY
Helen Anderson won the interclub fifty-yard sprint in the time of thirty-five seconds, and is reported to be in fine shape for the big gala Monday, while Mary Maclean captured the 100-yard complete in eighty-two seconds. Marion Shelly took the 200-yard race. Victoria's prospects are fairly bright for the plunge, since the Vancouver boys who took first place in their club shoot was only able to go fifty-three feet, while W. T. M. Barrett, local star, has plunged over sixty.

Crescent Beach will send a women's relay team averaging thirty-six seconds for fifty-yard lengths, while the men's teams covered the distance in average times of twenty-nine seconds a length.

SURE BET?
George Burrows is counted a sure winner in the 500 yards men's championship, while Gerry S. Woodrow is figured a good bet for the junior fifty-yard laurels. He has done the distance under thirty seconds and is swimming well now.

Summers, the lanky boy who has placed in several sprints here, is considered by the mainland experts to be a certainty for the 100 yards championship if he is in shape.

The visitors are not certain of the entry of Tyne Abernathy, the fifty-yard flash who won last year. John Bayley, well-known here for his sprinting ability, may not be able to make the trip.

Ernie Peden, U.B.C. diving ace, cannot get away for the meet.

TEED WELLBURN
Should Tom Welburn come down for the gala, the locals will stand a good chance of taking some of the championships, and should be strong in the men's relay. Including him on the tentative team, the V.A.S.C. have lined up the following for the event: T. Welburn, F. Gilbert, A. Thompson

New Rules Will Hurt Chances of Americans

Tight Defensive Play of Gotham Team Impossible

Lionel Conacher and His Star-spangled Outfit Will Not Be Able to Use "Kitty Bar the Door" Style of Play After They Get One-goal Ahead; However, Experts Pick Team To Be Well Up in Running for N.H.L. Championship; Americans Will Be Same as Last Season.

New York, Nov. 7.—Professional hockey, so the experts say, is just about as difficult a game to "doze out" each winter as the big intercollegiate football battles of the fall.

A year ago this time, the wise men decided the New York Americans were due to finish last in the annual whirl of the National Hockey League. Once this was decided the star spangled outfit staged a surprising campaign and finished second in their section, losing in the Stanley Cup play-offs to the New York Rangers.

This fall experts believe that the Americans with the same team as last season, will finish again with the leaders. Yet, the Americans themselves have little hope for better than last place.

The sweeping changes in rules governing the professional game have hurt the team. Last fall with a revamped six, the Americans specialized in a highly successful "Kitty bar the door" style of play. Given a one-goal lead, the team went strictly defensive and was almost unbeatable. The new rules, providing penalties for this style of play in order to encourage scoring, will work particularly against the Americans.

HAVE SAME PLAYERS

The team itself will be the same that took the ice a year ago to start the 1928 season. Lionel Conacher, playing-manager, will lead the defence again.

10,000 RACING FANS ATTEND TEXAS RENEWAL

Arlington Downs, Texas, Nov. 7.—Renewal of horse racing in Texas, after a lapse of twenty-two years, drew 10,000 fans to the $3,000,000 plant of the Texas Jockey Club here yesterday. Almost perfect weather attended the running of six races, for which purses totalling $6,000 had been set up by Colonel W. T. Waggoner, millionaire Texas cattle man and founder of the Three D stables.

The big turnout of spectators was in answer to Col. Waggoner's challenge to the state's sporting instincts and apparently justified his contention that a racing meet could be conducted without benefit of wagering of any kind.

Meets of officers in plain clothes were in the crowd to prevent book-making. Several well-known book-makers from the north and east were warned against practicing their profession and the betting, if there was any, was done on the fly.

With Leo Reise and "Bullet" Joe Simpson sharing the other defence berth. Roy Winters, star goalie purchased from Pittsburgh last fall, is back in the nets.

On the wings Babe Dye, former Chicago star, has fully recovered from injuries suffered last year and will lead the attack with Harry Connor, Johnny Shepherd, "Rabbit" McVeigh and three youngsters new to the team this year. One is Billy Boyd, former Ranger, and the other pair are George Patterson, who came from the Montreal Canadiens via Boston, and Billy Holmes, a wing last season with the New Haven Eagles in the Canadian-American League.

Billy Burch, one of the centre stars of the league, is back in the middle of the ice with Norman Himes as his substitute.

NAVY ARE WINNERS OF TROPHY

Defeat Saanich United 6-0 to Capture Hayward Cup For First Time

Spriddell Scores Three Goals For Tars; Hudson's Bay Defeat Batchelors

Defeating Saanich United by the overwhelming score of 6-0 at the Royal Athletic Park yesterday afternoon, the Navy, Wednesday League football team, gained possession of the Hayward Cup for the first time. This is the first time the tars have captured this trophy since they have been competing in mid-week soccer. The series finished with the Navy holding a four-point lead over Saanich United, who in turn were two points in front of the Bays. Batchelors finished in last position with only a single point chalked up to their credit. In the second match played yesterday the Hudson's Bay handed Batchelors a 2-1 setback at Beacon Hill.

The Navy completely dominated the play in their match with Saanich. Their forwards were continually in top of Restall, the youthful United goalie, who spent one of the busiest afternoons of his short career as a netminder. However, he turned in a fine game between the sticks.

In the first half, although the Navy had a decided edge, they were only able to beat the Saanich defence once. Spriddell, the "tars" centre-forward, leading Restall with a wicked drive to the corner of the hamp. The Saanich forwards tried hard to equalize, but the veteran backs of the Navy broke up all attacks.

SAANICH SLIPS

In the second half Saanich fell away completely and it was just a case of how many goals the Navy would score. Pressing, the Navy forced a corner and from the kick Spriddell drove home his second counter. Cosier, fleet left winger of the sailors, brought the score to 3-0 when he went in close to give Restall no chance of saving.

Still on the attack, the Navy scored their fourth counter when Cosier's shot hit Moir, one of the Saanich halves, and rebounded into his own net. Moir scored another and Spriddell made it 6-0 just before the final gong.

Shortly before time Saanich were down to only ten men when Ashe, their left full-back, was carried off the field with an injured knee.

McKay refereed.

The teams were as follows: Saanich United—Restall, Ashe, Wyatt, Love, Moir, Rigby, Cann, Hawkes, Barry, Stoner and Tooby.

Navy—Zander, A. White, Plummer, Dyke, Robinson, Johnston, Plummer, Mair, Spriddell, Watt and Cosier.

The game at Beacon Hill did not provide a small number of spectators with only one startling football, although it was a close game.

Both teams started the game short-handed, but it was not long before they were at full strength. In the initial half neither team had any golden opportunities to score, as play for the most part was confined to centre field.

Both teams seemed to be playing the style of football known as the "kick and rush game," and their efforts did not bring any results.

In the second half both teams set out to play a better style of game, and it was not long before the Navy notched the first goal. Fish took a pass from King and went through to score. Carey, playing goal for the Batchelors, stopped the shot, but the ball rolled over the fatal mark. Play then went from one end of the field to the other, with both teams passing up some great chances to score.

After the prettiest combination rush of the day King drove the ball into the net for the Navy's second counter of the day. From this time on the Batchelors went all on the offensive, and it was not long before their efforts were rewarded. John Taylor sent a pretty corner kick into the goalmouth, where Bob Addie put the finishing touches to the score.

Shrimpton, in goal for the Bays, got his foot on the ball, but was unable to stop it from going into the net. The game ended with the ball in Bay territory and the Batchelors striving for the tying goal.

Armstrong refereed.

The teams were: Hudson's Bay—Shrimpton, Wallace, Gardiner, Cull, Oakman, Woodley, Newell, Fish, Payne, King and Atkinson.

Batchelors—Carey, Davies, Smith, Maine, Mercer, Wright, Woodley, McIlmoy, Addie, McGee and Taylor.

SHOOTING FINE BIRDS

To the Sports Editor—I am informed that a game reserve was founded about two years ago at Elk Lake, with the hope of encouraging birds to this locality for protection. Among the birds which have found sanctuary are several wild geese. These birds have become so tame that they will eat out of the hands of visitors.

A day or so ago a youth shot at these practically tame birds from the road, killing two of them. Private citizens have offered a reward of $50 for information which will lead to the identity of this offender and it is hoped that your sporting columns will draw some attention to this fact and to the misdemeanor of shooting birds in a game sanctuary.

WILL PERFORM AT ICE CARNIVAL

MISS MAUDE SMITH, TORONTO

Spectators at the Rotary Ice Carnival on Saturday night will see both Canadian and United States skating champions in action. Miss Maude Smith is recognized as one of the most accomplished women skaters on the continent.

Beckley and Russell are star entertainers from Madison Square Garden, New York. Their ice acrobatics are daring in the extreme. In some of their dazzling leaps and whirls a false step or slight miscalculation in timing would have most serious results. Every minute they are on the ice the audience is held in a state of breathless expectancy. Ice clowns, skating comedy, speed contests, costumed ballet with fifty performers and a grand fancy dress carnival open to everyone, with cash and valuable gifts as prizes, complete an evening's entertainment that will long be remembered.

The Gitz Temple Shrine Band will be out in full force to provide the music for this annual event, the proceeds of which are in aid of Rotary Welfare Funds.

ball, and the suggestion put forward by the writer to have the Nanaimo South End team here for Christmas Day. I think this would be a splendid idea. I happened to be motoring through Nanaimo last Sunday afternoon and heard there was a game on between South End and Park Rangers. I stayed over a few hours to see the number of players getting some hard knocks, not from any rough play, but from keen play. The South End team played great soccer and won 6-0. The forwards were fast and in on the goal at every chance, while the defence would pass the ball back to one and another so get out of danger. They could give any team in Victoria a great run, although the players are nearly all youngsters.

WEST ROAD RALLY AND BEAT BAYS

Comeback in Second Half to Score 39-28 Victory in City Basketball

James Island Score Easy Win Over Motor Mechanics; J.B.A.A. Women Win

West Road, James Island and the J.B.A.A. women were returned victors in the three Victoria and District Basketball League games played at the Y.M.C.A. gymnasium last night. West Road defeated the J.B.A.A. 39-28 in the best game of the evening, while the James Island five had little trouble disposing of the Motor Mechanics to the tune of 49-6.

The women's game was a close-checking affair, with the J.B.A.A. holding the long end of 14-6 score when the final whistle blew.

After being two points down at half time, the West Road boys stepped on the gas to go out and score baskets in rapid succession to gain the lead early in the final half and hold it to the conclusion of the game.

The Bays gained an early lead through some nice combination and some good shooting by Bull, their star forward. This player garnered ten of his team's eighteen points in the first half and was a continual source of worry to the opposing guard.

The second half was a complete change, with the West Road team going on the offensive and scoring some pretty baskets. G. Lannon and the Sluggers' brothers engineered several nice combination plays that ended up with baskets.

Bull, the hefty Bay forward, was the leading scorer with fourteen points, closely followed by G. Lannon, who collected thirteen.

The teams were: West Road—C. Sluggert, S. J. Lannon, J. G. Lannon, N. Andrews, C. Sluggert, G. Lannon, M. Lannon, G. J.B.A.A.—Bull, 14, Spruce, 2, Moses, 4, Wright, 6, Baines, Alexander, 2 and Smith.

ISLAND WINS EASILY

James Island had an easy victory over their more inexperienced foes, the Motor Mechanics. The Islanders took the opportunity to practice some combination and consequently the game was better to watch than the score would indicate.

Jenkinson, Ross and Smith had big nights at points getting, collecting thirty-nine points between them.

The teams were: James Island—Jenkinson, 14, Ross, 18, Irwin, 4, Smith, 12, Thompson and Rivers, 6.

Motor Mechanics—Rollinson, Thompson, Johnston, Antfield, Morley, 2, Graves, 2 and Farmer, 2.

Scoring eleven points in the second half to six for their opponents, the J.B.A.A. women upheld the honor of the well-known Victoria athletic organization by taking the Standard Steam Laundry five into camp. At the rest interval the score was deadlocked at three points apiece, but the Bays took the lead at the commencement of the last half never to lose it.

The teams were: J.B.A.A.—G. Carmichael, 7, 4, Sparks, 4, O. Taylor, M. Sparks, M. Ross and K. Glenn.

Standard Steam Laundry—M. Williams, G. Peters, M. Frost, 6, B. McDonald, 3, T. Kelly, B. McDonald and C. McLaughlin.

Alan Lemarquand refereed all games.

BILLIARDS

Britannia Branch billiard experts, who last year took all honors in the "C" division of the Interservice League, will open the season to-night in their club rooms with a game against the Veterans of France. The match will start at 7.30 o'clock.

Having won the Rochon Cup, emblematic of the championship in this division last year, the Britannia Branch cueists are expected to be well prepared for the opening of the season.

The "A" and "B" sections will swing into action next week. In the former group the Veterans of France, who last year annexed local and Provincial honors, have lined up a strong squad to defend their laurels.

Britannia Branch's team will be selected from the following: John Watt, J. Anderson, H. Timmins, J. Hall, Tom Obee and I. Dett.

RIFLE SHOOTING

L. Bdr. Newman, Gr. S. Rabey and Gr. Drysdale scored possibilities in the practice shoot of the 58th Battalion of the Royal Canadian Mounted Police.

The plan is to stage at least three games during the Christmas holiday season and, if it is deemed sufficient funds have not been secured through these games to look after players injured during the season, another game will be put on.

Bob Wilkinson, who has held office as representative of the Lower Mainland Football Association, decided to tender his resignation. This was formally accepted by the meeting, and Bob Davidson named in his place.

Brave Fliers On North Pole Santa Search Lost In Storm

Last Radio Message Received Stated That Planes Were Battling Blizzard in the Sky; Fear They Were Driven Down; Diligent Search Conducted for Explorers on Times Santa Claus Expedition.

Below is the last wireless message received from Captain Kleinschmidt and his exploring party at midnight last night:

"We are encountering extremely stormy weather but keeping close to the shore of Hudson Bay. Fuel sufficient and mechanisms perfect. All well and confident of braving storm at present threatening our safety."

CAPTAIN F. E. KLEINSCHMIDT.

The two mammoth aeroplanes carrying the members of the Victoria Times expedition to the North Pole in search of Santa Claus have not been heard from since midnight last night. Are they lost at sea? This is the question that is causing so much anxiety at the office of the Victoria Times and the newspaper kept in constant touch all last night with various radio stations and coast guard ships that might have something of importance to report concerning the whereabouts of the missing ships.

The last wireless message from the two aeroplanes speeding toward the Arctic regions was from Rupert House on the coast of Hudson Bay. The wireless received at midnight last night is quoted above.

Did the storm prove unsurmountable? Or did they fly safely through?

The fear around the Times office is that they were forced to land, impairing their wireless system.

DILIGENT SEARCH ON

All means are being employed by the Times to locate the missing fliers. Wireless stations have been appealed to, to keep up constant batteries of inquiries through the air in the hope of reaching the lost planes. Ships have been urged to sweep the ocean with giant searchlights. Nothing has been left undone that might uncover this mystery of the air.

FIRST RADIO SUNDAY

The wireless was working well all Monday and much progress was being made. Monday The Times received the following wireless message:

"Passed over Ottawa 2 p.m. Ran into heavy snowstorm and out of it again. Picked up the broad Nottaway River and followed it to its mouth at Hudson Bay. Landed at Rupert's House, Hudson's Bay post. Have used only half of our gasoline, but filled tanks to full capacity."

"CAPT. F. E. KLEINSCHMIDT."

Later the following message was received: "Left Rupert's House and friendly factor in charge of post. Passed Moose Factory and skirting western shore of Hudson Bay. Snow alternating with rainstorms. Ground inductor compass out of order, low telling, but can follow outline of coast; otherwise all is well."

"F. E. KLEINSCHMIDT."

According to the messages received the planes proceeded from Ottawa to Moose Factory, on Hudson Bay. A snowstorm made it impossible to follow a straight course to their destination. However, they picked up the broad Nottaway River and following it to Hudson Bay landed at Rupert's Bay, about seventy-five miles east of Moose Factory. For the benefit of those who are rusty in their geography the Nottaway River and Rupert's House are close to the dividing line between the provinces of Quebec and Ontario on the southern tip of Hudson Bay. From here the planes proceeded along the western coast of Hudson Bay past Fort Albany, between the mainland and Akimiski Island, and should have been, shortly after their last wireless message, between Fort Severn and Churchill, their next place of landing.

Both planes are equipped with pontoons, shaped in the style of "skis," so they can land equally as well on snow as on water. The last radio was received from Fort Severn indicating snow and rain storms. This is the worst kind of weather for an aeroplane, as sleet will form on the wings, cutting down the lifting capacity and forcing the plane down.

TO FIND SANTA CLAUS

The expedition to the North Pole was instigated as a search for Santa Claus in an effort to quiet a difficult controversy that had arisen over the existence of the merry old gent. Letters were printed from both sides and finally in an effort to bring peace and settle the question forever, The Times decided to send an expedition to Ekimolund and discover the truth.

Capt. Kleinschmidt was chosen to head the expedition because of his peculiar fitness for the job. The captain has spent many years in the Arctic taking motion pictures among the Eskimos and their little snow houses, showing the way the little fat brown men and women hunt the polar bear, the seal and the walrus in their Omaks or skin boats, and on the ice floes in the Arctic Ocean. Just think of it, children, of the wonderful motion

COLDS THAT DEVELOP INTO PNEUMONIA

Persistent coughs and colds lead to serious trouble. You can stop them now with Creomulsion, an emulsified creosote that is pleasant to take. Creomulsion is a new medical discovery with two-fold action; it soothes and heals the inflamed membranes and inhibits germ growth.

Of all known drugs, creosote is recognized by high medical authorities as one of the greatest healing agencies for persistent coughs and colds and other forms of throat troubles. Creomulsion contains, in addition to creosote, other healing elements which soothe and heal the infected membranes and stop the irritation and inflammation, while the creosote goes on to the stomach, is absorbed into the blood, attacks the seat of the trouble and checks the growth of the germs.

Creomulsion is guaranteed satisfactory in the treatment of persistent coughs and colds, bronchial asthma, bronchitis and other forms of respiratory diseases, and is excellent for building up the system after colds or flu. Money refunded if any cough or cold is not relieved after taking according to directions. Ask your druggist. (adv.)

New Superintendent Of the R.C.M.P. At Edmonton Named

Edmonton, Nov. 7.—An Order-in-Council has been passed retiring Superintendent James Ritchie of Edmonton after thirty-eight years service in the Royal Canadian Mounted Police and appointing Inspector A. E. Ackland of Regina in his place, as superintendent.

Inspector Ackland, who by this promotion becomes a superintendent of the force with Edmonton as his headquarters, was senior inspector in the R.C.M.P. with thirty-two years' service to his credit.

How do you know there Is a Santa Claus?

In spite of all proof there are still some who think there is no St. Nicholas in the Land of the Midnight Sun, bordering the Domain of Ice and Snow with Gnomes and fairies working for all the boys and girls in the world.

But for the boys and girls who know better here is a chance to earn some extra money for Christmas.

Here is your opportunity. If you are less than 12 years old and believe in Santa Claus the rest is very easy.

The Victoria Times offers a prize of $25 for the best letter of not more than 150 words telling just why you know there is a Santa Claus. For the letter which is judged second to the best there is an award of $15; the third prize is $10 and the fourth $5. For the next five letters to receive honorable mention The Times will give $1.

There is only one condition attached to the contest— You must be LESS than 12 years old.

All letters must be received at the office of The Times not later than midnight of Wednesday, November 20. Announcements of the winners with their letters will be made the following Monday, November 25.

Now is the time to get busy. There certainly is a Santa Claus and all the world knows that he lives right on top of the world 'way up at the North Pole.

Of course there are some little boys and girls who don't think there is a Santa, but that is just all they know about it. You can prove it to them now that you know there is one and he will come to see you at Christmas and with the money from your letter you can buy just lots of presents and candy.

Address your letter to the Santa Claus Editor, The Victoria Daily Times and be sure you mail it in plenty of time. Then Watch The Times for your name among the winners.

Officer Dismissed For Responsibility In Ship Collision

Inquiry Held Here Immediately Following Mishap Found Officer of the Watch on Louise to Blame; Improbable That Dominion Government Will Order Official Inquiry Into Accident.

As the outcome of an inquiry held by officials of the company into the recent collision between the C.P.R. steamers Princess Louise and Princess Marguerite, the officer in charge of the watch on the Princess Louise at the time of the mishap was held responsible for negligence and has been relieved from the service.

The officer in question had been in the service of the company for many years and up to the time of the collision off Ketchikan on the morning of October 28 had an excellent record.

Immediately following the accident by Capt. C. D. Negutowski, manager of the B.C. Coast Service, and Capt. R. W. McMurtry, marine superintendent.

Prompt inquiries of this character are always held by the company in the case of marine mishaps, which, fortunately, are rare with its vessels.

In view of the thoroughness of the investigation and its outcome, as well as the fact that there was no loss of life, it is considered improbable that the Dominion Government will order an inquiry into this mishap.

At the time of the collision passengers in their statements to the press, paid tribute to the splendid discipline of the officers and men of the Princess Louise, thereby relieving those on the ship of all anxiety.

Summer activities of the company included a programme of heavier ballasting and replacement of numerous bridges throughout the heavier mountain divisions.

FURNESS LINER DUE ON MONDAY

Fire on Pacific Trader Has Seriously Disrupted Schedule; Soon Be Regular

The fire aboard the Furness motor liner Pacific Trader at her dock in Glasgow several months ago and the subsequent withdrawal of that ship for necessary repairs has led to the disruption of the Furness service from England to the Pacific Coast. The service has been irregular for the last few weeks, but after December 1, the schedule will be followed out, an arrival being posted here every second Saturday.

The next Furness arrival here from the United Kingdom will be the Pacific Reliance, which King Brothers, local agents, expect here sometime on Monday. Following the Reliance will be the Pacific Shipper which will dock here on Wednesday, November 27. After that date the old schedule will be resumed, the Pacific Exporter being timed to dock on Saturday, December 7, and the next boat two weeks after that.

The Pacific Reliance, due here on Monday, has about 100 tons of cargo for this port. Before proceeding to Vancouver she will load 140 tons of cargo here for the return voyage to Europe. There are also several passengers aboard the ship for Victoria and Vancouver. The Reliance is to-day en route to San Francisco from Los Angeles Harbor.

Around the Docks

The Canadian Australasian liner Niagara, from Sydney, Auckland, Suva and Honolulu, is expected to arrive at the William Head quarantine station this evening at 7 o'clock, more than twelve hours ahead of time. She will dock at the Mithet pier about 8:30 o'clock and after discharging light cargo and several passengers will proceed to Vancouver about midnight.

The steam schooner Willapa docked at the C.P.S. lumber wharf in the upper inner harbor this morning at 6 o'clock from Port Alberni. After loading 300,000 feet of timber she is expected to clear for San Pedro some time this evening.

The freighter Fresno Star left Nanaimo on Tuesday for Vancouver after taking on 1,100 tons of coal at the upland port. She is in from the Orient, but will sail for the United Kingdom.

The C.P.R. steamer Princess Norah is expected here some time to-morrow on her return from a cruise to the West Coast of Vancouver Island as far north as Port Alice. She will sail to the coast again from Victoria on Monday, November 11 at 11 o'clock in the evening.

Aboard the N.Y.K. liner Mishima Maru, now en route here from ports in China and Japan are 130 tons of general cargo, including thirty-four bales of raw silk, for discharge at the Mithet pier here. There are fifty-six passengers in all classes aboard the ship, three, one in each class, for Victoria. For Seattle there are eighteen first-class passengers, fifteen second-class and twenty third. The Mishima will be here on Saturday, November 16.

The Kingly freighter Texada sailed from San Francisco early this morning for Barkley Sound and Victoria. King Brothers, local agents, expect the ship here either late Monday or early Tuesday.

C. A. Lafarge, traffic agent for the Puget Sound Navigation Company with headquarters in Seattle was a business visitor in Victoria to-day.

The Canadian National steamer Prince George will leave Vancouver at 8 o'clock to-night for Prince Rupert and Ketchikan. She will return to Vancouver next Tuesday.

Boettcher, were on a tour to study operations on North American waterfront, left last night for Vancouver. It is anticipated that the new cutter, which will be approximately 1,000 tons, and the vessel will be 250 feet long, with a beam of forty-four feet and a speed of eighteen knots. Labor Delegates
Oppose All Money
Military Grants

Winnipeg, Nov. 7.—Demand for an ending of all money grants by the Federal, Provincial and Municipal Governments for military purposes is contained in a resolution passed by the
All-Canadian Labor Congress in annual convention here yesterday. Abolition of the entire cadet movement from Canadian schools also is demanded in the resolution, which urges no further money grants be made for cadets.

Heated opposition by a number of delegates to the clause demanding no money grants be made for military purposes by the various Governments kept the issue before the convention for the greater part of the afternoon, and only by a small margin was the resolution passed.

Keeping Off
The Shelf
At Sixty

How to Be Young—Stay
Young and Keep the Spirit of Youth Vibrant
Within You

Some folks stay young at sixty—others grow old at thirty-five. In what class are you? Old age, lack of ambition, power and the ability to work and enjoy life as in youthful days depends more upon the condition of your
"nerve force" than on passing years.
Exhausted nerve force means "old age" at any period of life. If your nerves are strong, virile, responsive, you are a tower of strength and years mean nothing.

A really remarkable nerve treatment, especially designed for the needs of men and women past forty, is now in the hands of leading druggists all over Canada. It is known as ERBAC (double strength). Its use cannot injure, it is not a gland treatment or dangerous habit-forming stimulant nor is it a quick-acting drug that picks you up overnight. You must take it as directed for twenty days. Then, if you do not feel years younger, and tremendously better in every way, the small twenty days' cost will be refunded.

Would you like to get a new and

Sister
Mary's
Kitchen

By SISTER MARY
No holiday menu is complete without at least a narrow wedge of mince pie and for meals during the entire holiday season mince pie makes an acceptable dessert.
Mince meat improves if allowed to stand one or two weeks before making into pies. The flavors blend as in any speed concoction and the result is an enticing mixture without any predominating flavor.
"Proper" mince meat is made with boiled cider and there are several brands of commercially prepared boiled cider on the market. However, sweet spiced vinegar from sweet pickles or a mixture of grape juice, orange juice and lemon juice can be substituted with good results. Sweet cider if it is at hand.

HONOR DEAD AND LIVING

Organizer Finds Armistice
Lesson in Visit to Soldiers' Plot

"Hugh Atwood Beaven, surgeon, H.S. Delta and H.S. Dunluc Castle, The Supreme Sacrifice.

"All they had they gave to save mankind, themselves they scorned to save."

Seeking inspiration for a message which would convey the real meaning of Armistice, the writer went to the "soldiers' plot" in Ross Bay Cemetery, and, next to the Cross of Sacrifice, saw a grave, on the headstone of which is carved the above inscription.

Quite close, and well within the area known as the "soldiers' plot," there is another grave, on which rests a small, simple tablet, which records:

"Here lies Trudie, that dear child, Feb. 3, 1893; Oct. 21, 1910. She was gentle and kind. Gifted and dearly loved."

There is no other name, just Trudie, who was "gentle and kind. Gifted and dearly loved."

In one spot is the resting place of the doctor who saved others but scorned to save himself, and close by is the kind and gentle child who was "dearly beloved."

If is doubtful if anyone is fit to intrude upon the sacredness of the thoughts which must come to many who read those words as they stand within the shadow of the Cross of Sacrifice. But because many eyes yet cannot see, it may not be unfitting to point out the lesson which the inscriptions convey.

The doctor is an example of devoted service, of a life which was shortened by his labors on behalf of the war-shattered wrecks. He gave his life that others might live, and in dying he exemplified the spirit of true service which asks nothing but gives freely.

Trudie, who lived a sheltered life, did not know the horrors of war, she radiated sunshine and happiness by her kindness and gentleness, and because she was good and kind she was "dearly beloved."

If we had hearts like a little child, gentleness and love would find a way to smooth the rough paths which lead to the future because they were without hope. And it would be unnecessary to plead for the help of a tiny small arm, which is necessary to alleviate distress amongst veterans and their families.

Ten thousand dollars, equal to a per capita subscription of twenty cents, is all that is asked; an amount so trivial to each, if all would help, that it is almost an insult to keep pleading and begging in public places. We are not asking for money! We are asking for mercy! We are asking that citizens do their duty, and that before they go through the form of honoring the dead on November 11, they truly honor their memory by providing for the wants of the living who offered their lives as freely as did those that rest in the deep or in soldiers' graves.

Cheques should be sent to the honorary treasurer, Capt. C. P. L. Money, 312 Fort Street. Other donations may be left at the Poppy Day Headquarters, 1217 Broad Street.

If the lesson of the two gravestones has been learned there will be a ready response. The self-sacrifice of the doctor and the kindness and gentleness of the little child should appeal to the hearts of all. They epitomize the greatest things in life. And if, with these examples before them, citizens fail us, we can only say—there is no hope, the hearts of the people are hardened against us.

H. W. HART,
Hon. Organizer Armistice and Poppy Day Celebration.

Strawberry Vale

The regular monthly meeting of the Strawberry Vale Women's Institute was held on Tuesday afternoon with a good attendance of members. Mrs. George Austen presided.

It was decided to renew stove pipe and to have the drawing table placed for repairing of sidewalk to large hall on Burnside Road.

The returns for the sale of comforter tickets were received, and it was decided to have the drawing table placed at the first card party of the season to be held in the Institute Hall on Tuesday, November 16. These parties will be held every fortnight. Gratitude is expressed to the convener.

The treasurer gave a satisfactory report of the finances, having received, apart from rentals, etc., the Government cheque for the year.

It was decided to forward $5 to the Institute for the Blind, also 100 pounds of flour to the Solarium, and $2 to the Travelers' Aid.

A book shower will be held at the next meeting, when a box of reading matter will be packed for shipment to Cortes Island. Friends are asked to contribute.

TO-DAY'S GRAIN MARKETS

WHEAT STOCKS PILE UP TO NEW RECORDS

Winnipeg, Nov. 7. (Solloway, Mills Service).—Canadian wheat visible as of November 6 totals 212,863,942 bushels, compared with 203,480,937 last week and 130,330,433 a year ago.

The United States visible stands at 194,215,000 bushels, against 192,976,000 last week and 134,244,000 a year ago.

Fort William stocks stand at 55,846,000 bushels this year, as against 53,890,222 last week and 39,438,745 a year ago.

Chicago, Nov. 7. (Solloway, Mills Service).—Broomhall today says it is impossible to anticipate any real sustained buying of wheat by continental Europe in the near future because prices in Italy, France and Spain are very low and domestic supplies continue liberal.

(By Branson, Brown & Co. Limited) Winnipeg, Nov. 7.—Wheat: Opened 1/2 to 1 1/2 lower but quickly reacted and developed into a small sized bull affair with prices scoring a gain of 3/4 to 4 1/2 cents from early low points.

The Chicago market displayed strength right from the start, which encouraged the local bulls, who started to buy wheat and forced heavy covering by shorts, which finally turned this market even stronger than Chicago, which was only three cents up at top levels.

The bulk of the trade was undoubtedly short covering and outside of a little buying at the start in the nearby months by seaboard hedgers there was very little doing that looked like export business, and overnight sales were reported as very small, although seaboard estimated total sales at 7,250,000 bushels in all positions, hard winters again shown from abroad.

The local cash market was very slow again to-day with little interest being shown and overnight business was very light.

London reported Switzerland a good buyer of No. 2 Northern at Atlantic seaboard, but aside from this there were only odd loads of the various grades of wheat, and the market was slow.

Flax: Market was strong, with covering, due to a report from Chicago of frost in the Argentine. Crumming demand very light and no interest was shown.

(By Branson, Brown & Co. Limited) There was a much better feeling in the wheat market to-day, prices being influenced by the good recovery in stock prices, the reports of frost in Argentina, and the reports of a good export demand.

The seaboard reports said the continent was again showing more interest in wheat, with sales of 1,000,000 bushels or more including both Manitoba and hard winters.

The cash basis here was unchanged and offerings continued light. Canadian country marketings for 26 days were 1,562,000 against 1,622,000 a year ago, and a Winnipeg message said the only remaining about 20,000,000 bushels wheat to make home and seed needs, primary receipts in the month were 743,000 bushels against 1,618,000 a year ago.

Argentine shipments were estimated at 2,708,000 bushels. Broomhall's agent now estimates the export surplus for 1929 at 164,000,000, or 100,000,000 less than his preliminary estimate.

The fact that prices are down close to the loan basis fixed by the farm board suggests caution on the selling side, for excellent class of buying and favor buying on the dips.

CITIES SERVICE HOLDERS MOVE FOR INJUNCTION

New York, Nov. 7. — Minority stockholders of the Cities Service Company to-day filed in Federal Court, through counsel, a petition for an injunction to restrain the company from revoking or in any way cancelling the rights given to stockholders early last month to buy additional stock at $45 a share.

After the stock had broken to a low of $20 in the recent crash the company announced withdrawal of the rights.

The action was started by Hugo Cohn, owner of 300 shares of common stock. The resolution offering the transactions in rights was filed in court on October 10 and was to remain operative until November 30. The directors voted to withdraw it on October 30.

Cohn's complaint said that Cities Service rights under the resolution were traded on the Curb market from $1.50 to $2.25 a share. It is set forth that if the Cities Service directors enforced the withdrawal of the offer all transactions in rights will be cancelled by the Curb Exchange. At the time the offer was made Cities Service common was selling at 65 1/2. Subsequently it slumped in the general market break.

HERE ARE FACTS ON LAKE SHORE AND NORANDA
(Miller, Court Service)

Toronto, Nov. 7.—Lake Shore has over $100,000,000 of its raw material on hand and paid for, ready to be manufactured at a minimum of cost and saleable at all times. In October Lake Shore handled somewhat close to 1,250 tons for a total production of $700,000. This was a considerable jump as the preceding three months totalled around $1,400,000. This monthly jump is reported almost entirely due to an extremely high grade vein on the lower levels, from which ore has been pulled. Early in the new year the mill tonnage will be hoisted to a minimum of 3,000 tons, and possibly attaining 3,300 tons, practically double present production.

A few question Noranda mines climbing ore reserves. There was a deposit of $27,000,000 at the time the railway line was built, and the scheme arranged. The smelter operating in December, 1927, that there has been a cumulative cash position from profits of $300. The profits, together with holders' subscriptions early this paid off the entire $3,000,000 indebtedness. It might be well to appreciate a grand dividend possibility. Added to the initial $300,000 deposit, another $500,000 was added in 1928 developments from a comparatively small sale of ore body. The significance in the fact that this one big body has had still enlarged development and the 1929 year has assured at least another crop of $50,000,000 reserves and talking $100,000,000. Estimates, therefore, for the next Noranda report are conservatively put $130,000,000 reserves and estimated as high as $170,000,000. The fact that two years' production has meanwhile absorbing ore

How Can a Young Bachelor Avoid the Threat of Matrimony When He Makes Love?—Why the Modern Girl Gives More Trouble Than Her Brother

DEAR MISS DIX—Why does every woman I make love to expect me to marry her. It is perfectly dreadful. I never feel safe any more. I hardly ever am able to make love to a girl two weeks at a stretch without her starting to talk about a bungalow with curtains. A wife would be a dreadful handicap to me now, but must I become a monk until I am ready for the handcuffs? Is there not any pleasant feminine companionship to be had without the threat of matrimony hanging constantly over my head?

Answer—Oh, yes, there is plenty of pleasant feminine companionship to be had dallying along paths that do not lead to the altar, for there is a constantly increasing number of intelligent, good-looking, agreeable, up-and-coming young women who do not desire to marry, but who like to play around with men.

These are business and professional women who have fitted themselves for some special work in which they are interested, and who make fine salaries. They feel that they do not care to give up good jobs for mediocre husbands, and that it is easier and pleasanter to work in an office than it is in a kitchen, so matrimony has no allure for them, especially as they see it illustrated in the cases of their sisters and their cousins and their aunts.

But because a girl doesn't want to marry doesn't keep her from wanting masculine society. She gets fed up on women talk, and there is small pep in running around to exclusive hen parties or going to the theatre with another girl, and any self-respecting girl would never dance another step if she had to have one of her own sex for a partner. So these young women who would say "yes" promptly and emphatically if you asked one of them to marry you, will say "yes" gladly enough if you will ask her to the theatre, or to go to a restaurant or a ball with you.

Hence, if you yearn for feminine companionship which is absolutely safe, hunt up a successful business girl and make her your little playmate. She will have no designs upon you.

The trouble with you has been that your approach was wrong. You don't pitch your attentions on the right plane. You should have labeled your attentions as without intention, and so have avoided having them misconstrued.

Of course, if you begin by making love to a girl and giving her the usual applause about her being the only woman in the world, and your never having loved before, and that the hours are weeks long that you do not see her, you cannot blame her if she believes you and begins to try to decide on whether she will have a church wedding or be married at home, and how she will dress the bridesmaids.

A woman's vanity makes her credulous and she seldom has enough common sense to analyze the sweet nothings that men say to her and find out whether they mean anything, or are just merely hot air. She longs to be loved. She yearns to believe that some man has enshrined her in his heart, and so she falls for any kind of blarney. She doesn't realize that the love-making that isn't accompanied by a genuine, bona fide proposal of marriage is merely a man's way of amusing himself and making things pleasant for the girl.

It is because women practically always misunderstand love-making that makes it a dangerous sport for men who do not want to marry. Therefore, I advise you to cut it out and to confine yourself to platonic friendships with girls who likewise do not wish to marry, but who are not averse to discussing the theory of love in all of its various phases and manifestations. And, believe me, son, that's playing with fire, but it is not quite so hazardous as sticking your hand into the flame.

DOROTHY DIX.

DEAR DOROTHY DIX—Why do so many people say that they are glad they have not young girls to raise in this generation? You don't hear as much said about the boys as you do about the girls, but I think that boys give their parents as much trouble as the girls and sometimes a little bit more.

BOSE.

Answer—There have always been wild boys and boys who sowed their wild oats, and Heaven knows they have been anxiety and sorrow enough to their parents and caused their parents to shed enough tears. But this is the first time in the history of the world when there have been wild and unmanageable girls in respectable families, who have defied their parents' authority and made their parents lie awake at night wondering what they were doing and praying for their safety.

In former times father and mother may not have known where John was, nor what he was up to, but they knew where Mary was, and that she was blamelessly amusing herself. But nowadays Mary slams the door behind her, and is off with a gay crowd in an automobile and she rolls home with the milkman. Furthermore, parents didn't used to have to worry about what a nice girl would do. Nice girls didn't smoke or drink or even pet, unless they were engaged to a young man, but what with hip flasks and hooch parties and roadhouses there are plenty of things to give the parents of girls grey hair and wrinkles before their time nowadays.

And it is because parents cannot keep their own daughters from doing the things that other people's daughters do and because girls have broken away from one set of standards and a new set of standards has not yet been formulated, and because the fathers and mothers know that these little ignorant girls, who think themselves so wise, are in such danger that it makes all who have daughters feel that they are tackling a great and unsolvable problem.

Of course, bringing up boys is likewise a job that is full of anxiety and heartaches, but the worst that can befall a boy is not so tragically bad as what can befall a girl. For a boy to be talked about does not blast his reputation as it does a girl's. For a boy to get drunk is not the shame it is for a girl to get drunk. For a boy to lead a loose life does not put him beyond the pale as it does a girl. A boy cannot disgrace his parents as a girl can.

For the world judges a woman harder than it does a man because it expects her to be better and purer. And God help us all when we cease to expect this.

DOROTHY DIX.

DEAR MISS DIX—If your hair was frightfully thin and people noticed it, and you were horribly sensitive about it and dreaded standing up in the middle of a room at a party where people didn't know you, and if your mother had made you self-conscious, because every time she looked at your head she sighed, what would you do? Would you tell your future husband and throw yourself on his mercy?

G. I. S. A.

Answer—I would buy a transformation and make no apologies about wearing it and I wouldn't tell my future husband anything about it. The chances are he will never notice it and, anyway, a woman's hair and her complexion are a mystery between her and her mirror, and her own trade secret that no one else has a right to know.

If your future husband loves you with a love that is worth having, it doesn't depend on your hair. It is for something deeper and stronger, and that has to do with your personality, your intelligence, and your sweetness of disposition. If all of your trouble is confined to your hair, you are lucky. That's easy.

DOROTHY DIX.

ILLINOIS MINERS IN COURT FIGHT

Springfield, Ill., Nov. 7.—Charges and counter-charges of fraud and theft were hurled in a barrage of the Illinois miners' war here yesterday when international officers filed an answer to the injunction proceedings brought in the Sangamon County Circuit Court to prevent the ousting of state officers.

In the injunction answer International President John L. Lewis made charges of insubordination against the state officers and definitely charged State President Harry Fishwick with illegal use of $38,302.10 of union funds.

Answering Lewis' attack yesterday afternoon, the state president declared the charges he had misappropriated the $38,302.10, or any other sum of money belonging to the Illinois miners, was a falsehood. He countered by charging the cheques upon which Lewis based his accusations had been stolen from the offices of the union here September 4.

The other nine counts of insubordination cited by Lewis as cause for revoking the charter of the Illinois district were not discussed by Fishwick in his reply to Lewis. Lewis quoted the United Mine Workers' constitution, denying the Illinois district was an autonomous or supervision from the international union.

To-morrow's Horoscope

FRIDAY, NOVEMBER 8, 1929

Astrologers read this as rather an unfortunate day in planetary government, a time in which to take no big risks in anything.

A benefit aspect is strong late in the afternoon when intellectual endeavor of every sort is likely to be stimulated.

The way is auspicious for aerial navigation and seems to promise new interest in lighter-than-air craft.

Education in the United States is now subject to the most stimulating and development influences.

Young folk come under a direction of the stars said to be marvellously beneficial to achievement in the realms of science and literature.

This is not an auspicious day for standing fast and doing nothing, but for activity and change.

It is not a favorable way under which to do business with banks and especially threatening to those who would borrow.

Salesmanship is likely to be rather disappointing while this way reveals, since it may be difficult to obtain the contract signature.

Newspapers to-day may contain reports or rumors of distant troubles, depressing in their influence.

Label difficulties may be foisted under this way which encourages unrest and discontent.

Strange weather conditions may cause much dependency in certain parts of the United States.

Terrific wind storms are foretold for various parts of the country and a winter of unusual conditions is indicated.

Persons whose birthday it is should be careful to avoid litigation in the coming year, which should be prosperous.

Children born on this day probably will be scholars in their tastes and independent in nature. Many subjects of the sign obtain fame as statesmen.

Jean Paul Pierre Casimir, President of France, was born on this day, 1877. Edmund Halley, 1656, famous astronomer, and William Wirt, 1772, famous orator also celebrated this as a birthday.

STORY OF GIGANTIC SILK THEFT TOLD AT COLUMBIA

A unique background for crook photoplays, that of the gigantic silk thefts which cost New York merchants more than $50,000,000 annually, is utilized in "Crooks Can't Win," the FBO production now showing at the Columbia Theatre.

The story, by Joseph Jefferson O'Neill, former New York reporter, is thrilling, dramatic, and well constructed. It deals with a boy who is persuaded to go on "the notice" by a retired cop, and the latter's granddaughter, with whom the hero is in love.

ture from the New York stage success of the same name by Ernest Pascal and Leonard Praskins. George Melford directed. Carl Laemmle, Jr. supervised. Holmes Herbert, Rockliffe Fellowes, Margaret Livingston and Fred MacKay portray the leading roles. The cast includes Philo McCullough, Antina Garvin, Crawford Kent, Rose Topley and Dorothy Goulet. Robert N. Lee wrote the screen adaptation and J. G. Hawks the continuity.

WHOLE MEXICAN TOWN WAS BUILT FOR PRODUCTION

A difficult feat of construction was performed at the First National studio recently, when an entire Mexican village was built in two days. Cactus, dusty streets, adobe houses, plazas and all the features of usual Mexico town were put up in record-breaking time by one hundred and seventy workmen.

The set was built for scenes in "The Great Divide," the all-dialogue Vitaphone picture starring Dorothy Mackall, now at the Capitol Theatre. Streets were laid out and frame-work constructed the first day. The second day the men did the plastering and painting and planted the necessary shrubbery, including ten varieties of cactus. Two hundred Mexican extras peopled the set.

Five special concerts at the Empress Hotel this season, November 14, December 11, January 23, March 28, April 1.

TAP DANCING IS RECORDED FOR TALKING FILM

There has never been a more difficult job of sound-recording than that required in the making of "The Hollywood Revue," Metro-Goldwyn Mayer's spectacular musical extravaganza, now showing at the Dominion Theatre. Douglas Shearer, recording engineer for M-G-M, who had personal supervision of this production, had to "get" the tap of dancer's feet, the resounding rhythm of huge orchestras, the croon of a tenor's high notes, and the great vocal outpouring of 200 and more trained voices. Shearer's job is so wonderfully done that if one closes the eyes while at a showing of "The Hollywood Revue," it is hard to realize that you are attending a picture theatre—and not a premiere of one of the biggest extravaganzas ever offered on Broadway, New York.

COLISEUM PLAYERS, IN FINE COMEDY, PLEASE CAPACITY HOUSES

The Coliseum Players, under the direction of Toby Leitch are being well received at the Coliseum Theatre this week in a stage production entitled "Why Girls Walk Home." Capacity houses have attended every evening this week. In addition to the stage attraction, an all talking screen play, "Pleasure Crazy," is being presented this week. Together these attractions make a splendid double bill that has pleased all who have so far seen it.

BRITISH FILM, "BLIGHTY," COMING TO PLAYHOUSE

"Blighty," a Great War picture produced by Gainsborough Pictures Ltd., will show at the Playhouse Theatre all next week. "Blighty" depicts graphically and faithfully the war behind the home front. While without a battle scene the picture paints the war so accurately that the spectator lives over again the terror, the anxiety, the joy of the fateful years which have added such terrible yet glorious pages to our history. Adrian Brunel, the director, has reconstructed in telling, moving sequences the tragedy and joy of the war years, as it affected not only the STOMACH PAINS?

Get rid of them Permanently with "Fruit-a-tives"

"Fruit-a-tives" will rid you of gas, flatulence, or pain after eating, and make life worth living again. Mrs. Annie Glover, Ottawa, writes: "A sufferer from indigestion, constipation, dreadful stomach pains, I tried 'Fruit-a-tives.' Some time ago I was a 'stomach' of the past." "Fruit-a-tives" acts naturally on the system. Gently and quickly it strengthens the whole digestive tract. It awakens liver, bowels and kidneys, soothes the stomach. Get a 25c or 50c box at your druggist's to-day. End digestive troubles. (Adv.)

men who bore the brunt but those at home who manfully shouldered a grave burden. A wealth of imagination has captured the spirit of the years and vision has created atmosphere with uncanny touch. "Blighty" is real, sound, convincing entertainment. British in story, in treatment. It is a sincere attempt to add to the progressive movement in British pictures and achieve undoubted success.

"HUMPTY DUMPTY" COMES FROM EGG

Opening Scene of Philip Rodway Pantomime Is Amusing

The nearest approach to the old-time musical comedy, when great stars went on triumphant tours, will be found in the Philip Rodway pantomimes imported from England this season by all Canada tours. The two selected for the Canadian tour are "Humpty Dumpty" and "Mother Goose." This company will appear at the Royal Victoria Theatre for one week, commencing next Monday, with a holiday matinee on Monday and a popular matinee on Saturday. They will present "Humpty Dumpty" for the first three days of the week, and "Mother Goose" for the last three days.

"Humpty Dumpty" begins with the egg poised on the castle walls of the king who has been warned that, should it ever fall, his throne will be imperilled. It is a fall, of course, and out comes Humpty—a strapping aged 2,407 years with the feeling and appearance of a schoolboy. From the wreckage of the egg shell Humpty extracts a parchment, which tells him that four wishes are allotted to him, and will be granted instantly. What those wishes are were better mentioned, for they are the makings of the play, but it may be said that they govern the fate of the king, who is striving to recover his crown which he dropped into the sea, of his daughter the princess, and, naturally, of a very gallant wooer, Prince Robert of Scotland.

"JOURNEY'S END" NEW TYPE PLAY

Gilbert Miller's Stage Success to Open at Royal Victoria Theatre Nov. 18

Gilbert Miller's production of "Journey's End" will come to the Royal Victoria Theatre Monday, November 18 for a three-day run with matinee Wednesday.

"Journey's End" is the world war play that for nearly a year has attracted capacity audiences to the Prince of Wales Theatre, in London, and which continues in Henry Miller's Theatre, New York, with no indication of abatement in an unprecedented patronage, while another company has just taken Chicago by storm.

The success of such a play as "Journey's End" is one of the most encouraging incidents in the theatre in many years. All the rotten lumber of playwrighting has been jettisoned in the making of "Journey's End." The familiar and time-worn sock in trade, the uninspired hack writer for the theatre is refreshingly absent. The ancient superstitions that have so long governed play making—superstitions that have presupposed a confirmed infatuation with the part of audience have been thrown on the scrap heap.

EDUCATIONISTS IN SESSION

Teacher Training Methods Criticized at Montreal Meeting

Montreal, Nov. 6.—Criticism of teacher training facilities occupied the greater part of yesterday's session of the annual conference of the Canadian Educational Association here. The session opened with the presidential address by F. H. Sexton, D.Sc., director of technical education of Nova Scotia, who attacked obsolete methods and practices which he contended, comprised modern educational courses. Dr. E. W. Coffin, of the Calgary Normal School, envisaged a reformed normal school system, and Dr. George D. Strayer of Columbia University, led an open discussion on teacher training in which he flayed the methods now generally in use. Dr. Coffin, in his address, stressed the need for high standards in normal schools—the high standards of admission and of qualification in terms of health, temperament, appearance, scholarship, accuracy and industry. V. K. Greer, of Toronto, who with Dr. Parmelee, of Quebec, led the discussion on Dr. Coffin's paper, feared that if Dr. Coffin's suggestions for the raising of the standards of normal schools should be adopted there would be no teachers available anywhere.

FIGHTING FOREST FIRES AT NIGHT

Equipment is now in use by the Forest Service, Department of the Interior, which enables rangers to fight forest fires at night, when such work is most valuable, owing to the fires dying down at dark. The chief item of special equipment is the miner's carbide lamp, which is attached to the firefighter's cap and so is located just above his forehead. This leaves his hands free to work, and gives the light just where desired, both for travel in reaching the fire and for the work of extinguishing the fire.
